J. MIDDLETON, Clerk.

MADRID (the Capital of Spain, and Reſidence of his Catholick Majeſty, 800 Miles S. W. of London, and 680 S. W. of Paris) July 16.

THOUGH the war between France and England is far from being diſadvantageous to the commerce and navigation of the ſubjects of the King our Sovereign, his Majeſty does not deſiſt from uſing all imaginable pains to bring thoſe two powers to a reconciliation, in which it is hoped he will at length ſucceed.

Hamelen (a Town in Germany, in the Circle of Lower Saxony, and D. of Brunſwick, ſituate on the river Weſer, 27 miles S. W. of Hanover, and ſubject to the Elector) Auguſt 2. A ſtrong detachment has been ſent from this place to diſlodge the French at Hoxter. Orders are come for 1000 waggons to carry proviſions to the army in the country of Paderborn. All ſorts of refreſhments are bought up for the camp, where there is no longer any ſcarcity. Prince Ferdinand has iſſued very ample orders to prevent all exactions, plundering, or other outrages, from being offered to the country people.

Prague, Auguſt 1. The Empreſs Queen, having given a carte-blanche to Baron Laudohn, that General, a few days ſince, aſſembled all the general officers of his army, to inform them of it; and at the ſame time exhorted them to perform their duty faithfully, not to harbour any jealouſy of each other, and to ſecond him efficaciouſly in his enterprizes; adding, that from a perſuaſion of their zeal and attachment to the Empreſs their Sovereign, and that their efforts would be anſwerable to their wiſhes, he hoped to bring things to ſuch a criſis, that the tranquility of Germany might be eaſily eſtabliſhed upon a ſtable footing.

Theſe diſpoſitions, and the advanced ſeaſon, preſage ſome grand ſtrokes, without which there is little likelihood of ſoon ſeing an end of the war.

From the Prince de Soubiſe's army, Auguſt 8. The Marſhal went this morning as far as Appelbeck Mill, to reconnoitre the ſituation of the Hereditary Prince; during which, Conflans's detachment repulſed and bridled the light-troops which the Hereditary Prince ſent forwards from Unna.

M. de Cambefort has puſhed his detachments to the right borders of the Lippe, and has got all the lights and intelligence that could be wiſhed. He has brought off two officers of the Britiſh Legion, and ſome ſoldiers, whom his Huſſars took on the road from Munſter to Hamm.

Duſſeldorp, Auguſt 11. The motives which induced the Marſhal Prince de Soubiſe to cover his army with the Roer, having ceaſed, he prepared to reſume the offenſive. With this view he determined to repaſs that river at Schwirert, on the 4th inſtant, which he effected with ſcarce any loſs, having eluded the Vigilance of the Hereditary Prince. On the 5th, in the morning, the French army proceeded to the heights of Barop. On the 6th the Hereditary Prince marched with a conſiderable force into the plain of Dartmunde; his right is behind Unna, and his left on the heights that overlook the Roer.

Paris, Auguſt 7. The King hath been at Choiſi ſince the 3d; and is very ill of a deſluction on his gums; which hath ſpread a gloom over the whole court.

Leghorn, July 24. The Genoeſe preparations to reduce Corſica, and thoſe of the Corſicans, to oppoſe the Republic, take away all hopes of a reconciliation.---Letters from that iſland import, that the Corſicans will not liſten to any accommodation, unleſs the Genoeſe previouſly acknowledge their liberty and independence, and evacuate the places where they keep garriſons.---On theſe conditions the Corſicans offered to diſcharge the debts their nation owe to the ſubjects of the Republic, with the legal intereſt due thereon, and will forget all cauſes of reſentment againſt Genoa. The inſurrection of that Iſland is not like a tumultous riot that may be appeaſed by prudence and time; it is a well digeſted project for ſhaking off the yoke of a govenment, which they do not acknowledge to be legal, and for having no Governors but ſuch as they ſhall pleaſe to chuſe.

LONDON.

Auguſt 14. The length of time appointed for the Right Honourable the Earl of Harcourt's continuance at the court of Mecklenburg, as we are informed, is ſix days. His Lordſhip's viſits to her Highneſs are to be made in form twice each day, viz. morning and afternoon; for this purpoſe his Lordſhip made up twelve ſuits of clothes, all of them remarkably rich and elegant, in order to appear in a new dreſs upon every interview with the Princeſs.

All trades but the Carpenters are at a ſtop; nothing is ſold in Weſtminſter but places to ſee the ſhew; every houſe, gentlemens as well as tradeſmens, from Weſtminſter-hall to the weſt door of the Abbey, and even the Abbey itſelf is converted to the ſame uſe.

Three Pruſſian recruiting officers, and ſome other emiſſaries, having inveigled above 50 young fellows in the Duchy of Holſtein, to enliſt in the Pruſſian troops, the preſident of Altena was informed of it, and he gave notice of it to the court of Copenhagen, who immediately ſent for the Pruſſian miniſter, and bade him inform his court, that they were extremely ſurprized at the preſumption of thoſe officers, in openly violating the treaties ſubſiſting between the two crowns; that they deſired that thoſe fifty young men might be ſent home, and the officers enjoined never to dare to enliſt men in any part of the king's dominions, otherwiſe his majeſty would take full ſatisfaction at a proper opportunity.

Aug. 15. Two French ſhips of the line, and two frigates, put into the Cape of Good Hope, from Mauritius, to which place they returned in March laſt, about a month before the arrival of the Liverpool at the Cape. The ſole purport of the enemy's ſhips going there, was to procure proviſions, the ſquadron being in a very ſtarving condition. The officers made no ſcruple to declare to the Dutch, that their ſituation at the Iſles de France (of which Mauritius is one) was ſuch that they wiſhed to be made priſoners by an Engliſh ſquadron, in order to return to Europe, and be freed from their diſtreſs.

Auguſt 20. The Royal Wedding, we are informed, is to be public, and the door of the Chapel Royal left open.

The Genoeſe government, finding that lenity and moderation are not likely to make any impreſſion upon the ſpirit of the Corſicans, have reſolved to have recourſe again to force; and, accordingly, have ſent two pinks, under convoy of a galley, laden with troops and ammunition, which are to be followed by other tranſports.

By Captain Davis arrived at Boſton, from London, but laſt from Newcaſtle, in 7 weeks, we have the following advices, viz.

PRAGUE, JULY 21.

ALL the ſteps of the two rival armies (his Pruſſian Majeſty's and Laudohn's) tend to a battle, which will probably decide the fate of Sileſia. One hour's time may produce more than has yet been done in 5 campaigns.

Magdebourg, Auguſt 4. The laſt letters from Sileſia, which are dated the 30th paſt, adviſe, that the king continues to encamp at Gieſmanſdorff, and the Auſtrians at Patichkau. The Pruſſians under General Knoblock are encamped at Brieg, and the Ruſſian Army at a little diſtance on the other ſide of the Oder.

Hague, Auguſt 9. The laſt letters from Germany adviſe, that Marſhal Broglio had paſſed the Dymel, and that, on this occaſion, the Allies fell on his rear.

LONDON, Auguſt 22.

Yeſterday there was a very grand council at the Cockpit, Whitehall, on affairs of great importance.

We hear that there are ſome artificial trees made, to decorate the grand deſert for the coronation, upwards of ten feet high.

Upwards of 50 ſail of tranſports, tenders, &c. are already aſſembled at the Nore; and yeſterday 17 more fell down the river to join the above. It is ſaid, when all the fleet are collected together, they are to proceed to Portſmouth.

Certain advices have been received from Commodore Keppel at Belleiſle, of his having received intelligence of eight French men of war, richly laden, from Martinico, and other French ſettlements in the Weſt-Indies, being daily expected to arrive at Old France; and that, in conſequence of this Intelligence, he had detached ſome of his ſquadron, in order to intercept them, and ſo diſpoſed of the reſt, as to render it next to an impoſſibility for them to eſcape.

A letter from Warbourg, dated the 8th inſtant, ſays, "Altho' the French talk of acting offenſively, yet it is eaſy to perceive they have no great ſtomachs for fighting, as is plain from the affair of General Stainville, near Heddinghauſen, who Prince Ferdinand attacked laſt Wedneſday; for tho' the French had near 12,000 men, and the Allies ſcarce half that number, they drove them from the paſs of Stadbergen, after a diſpute of about ſix hours, and took a great number of priſoners. The Engliſh troops, under the Marquis of Granby, were principally concerned in the above affair, and behaved with their uſual courage and intrepidity."

On the laſt day of July the Auſtrians were very near compleating their junction with the Ruſſians, for which purpoſe the corps under the command of the Generals Draſcowits and Bethlen had advanced as far as Neuſtadt; but there, inſtead of the Ruſſians they met with the Pruſſians, who attacked them with ſuch vivacity, that they were obliged to retire with ſome precipitation, and the loſs of a Lieutenant-Colonel, three ſubalterns, and about 200 private men. This misfortune obliged the Ruſſians, who were advancing, to retire to their former camp.

They write from Paris of the 7th, that the ſituation of their affairs grows daily worſe and worſe; that what heightens their chagrin is, that their misfortunes are not owing ſo much to the bravery of the enemy, as to the miſconduct of their Generals, ſeveral of whom, during the affair of the 16th, diſobeyed the orders given by Marſhal Broglio; in conſequence of which their two armies would have been totally defeated, had not that General timely diſcovered it.

It is added, that Marſhal Broglio having tranſmitted to Court the names of thoſe who refuſed to ſupport him in the action, orders were immediately ſent to him, to put them under arreſt, and ſend them home to clear themſelves before his Majeſty. He was at the ſame time ordered to make the utmoſt efforts to penetrate into the Electorate of Hanover. The French flatter themſelves that as he hath his hands now at liberty, he will take ample revenge of Prince Ferdinand, if he ſhould preſume to ſtop his march.

Halifax, in Nova-Scotia, October 15.

Laſt Friday arrived here the ſhip Hopewell, of Londonderry, by whom came upwards of 200 perſons, for the ſettlement of this province, with Col. Alexander M'Nutt, who, we are informed, has contracted for 10,000 tons of ſhipping, 5000 buſhels of wheat, 5000 buſhels of barley, 5000 buſhels of potatoes, 3000 buſhels of flaxſeed, 300 buſhels of hempſeed; with other ſeeds in proportion, for the uſe of the Iriſh ſettlers in Nova Scotia, the enſuing ſpring. The paſſengers arrived here in good health, and a conſiderable number of them will proceed to-morrow, with Col. M'Nutt, to view and examine the country.

BOSTON, OCTOBER 26.

Friday evening laſt, between 8 and 9 o'clock, came on the ſevereſt N. E. ſtorm of wind and rain that had been known here for 30 Years paſt, and continued till between 2 and 3 o'clock the next morning; in which time a hemp-houſe, at the weſt part of the town, the old wind-mill on the neck, and ſeveral chimnies in town, were blown down, beſides the tops of chimnies, turrets of houſes, fences, trees, &c.---The ſhipping in the harbour alſo received conſiderable damage, particularly Capt. Phips's ſchooner, which arrived the day before in 3 days from Halifax, and another ſchooner belonging to Scituate, which had their ſterns beat in, and almoſt filled with water; many other veſſels were damaged, and it is thought the miſchief would have been much greater to the veſſels at the Wharffs, had it not been near low water at the height of the gale: The province ſhip King George, Capt. Hallowell, we hear, parted a 15 inch cable: His Excellency our Governor having dined on board the ſhip that day, very providentially tarried there the night, as a chimney at the caſtle fell in by the violence of the gale, and carried the bed to the ground in which his Excellency intended to have lodged:---Two barns were blown down at Lynn, and a cow killed; and a barn at Cheiſea, and two horſes killed:---Five or ſix veſſels were drove aſhore at Providence, in Rhode-Iſland government, and greatly damaged; and it being high water there, it got into the ſtores and cellars, and deſtroyed ſugars, and other merchandize, to the amount of 12 or 15000 l. their currency; it has alſo entirely carried away the great bridge at that place:---On both roads, Eaſt and Weſt, as far as we have heard, the roofs of houſes, tops of barns, and fences were blown down; and 'tis ſaid ſome thouſands of trees have been torn up by the violence of the above ſtorm, and we fear we ſhall ſoon hear melancholy accounts of damage done by it at ſea.

NEW-YORK, October 29.

Staten-Iſland, 26th October, 1761.

The Ceremony of inveſting Sir JEFFERY AMHERST with the Moſt Honourable Order of the BATH, was performed Yeſterday in Camp, he having concerted with Major General MONCKTON ſuch Manner of its being performed, as the preſent Service would allow of.

His Excellency Major General MONCKTON, Governor of New-York, and ſeveral Officers of the Army being preſent, Major General MONCKTON firſt read Mr. Secretary PITT's Letter, as follows;

SIR, WHITEHALL, July 17th, 1761.

HIS Majeſty having been graciouſly pleaſed, as a Mark of His Royal Approbation, of the many and eminent Services of Major General AMHERST, to nominate him to be one of the Knights Companions of the Moſt Honourable Order of the BATH; and it being neceſſary that he ſhould be inveſted with the Enſigns of the ſaid Order, which are tranſmitted to him by this Opportunity; I am to ſignify to you the King's Pleaſure, that you ſhould perform that Ceremony; and it being His Majeſty's Intention, that the ſame be done in the Moſt Honourable, and diſtinguiſhed Manner that Circumſtances will allow of, you will concert, and adjuſt with General AMHERST, ſuch Time and Manner for inveſting him with the Enſigns of the Order of the BATH, as ſhall appear to you moſt proper for ſhewing all due Reſpect to the King's Order, and as may, at the ſame Time, mark, in the moſt public Manner, His Majeſty's juſt Senſe of the conſtant Zeal, and ſignal Abilities, which General AMHERST has exerted in the Service of his King and Country.

I am, &c.

W. PITT."

Honourable ROBERT MONCKTON.

Major General MONCKTON then proceeded to put the Ribbon over Sir JEFFERY AMHERST's Shoulder, making an Apology, that Circumſtances would not admit of a more formal Inveſtiture.

Sir JEFFERY AMHERST, upon receiving the Order, addreſſed himſelf to Major General MONCKTON, in the following Terms;

SIR,

I AM truly ſenſible of this diſtinguiſhing Mark of His Majeſty's Royal Approbation of my Conduct; and ſhall ever eſteem it as ſuch: And I muſt beg Leave to expreſs to you the peculiar Satisfaction I have, and the Pleaſure it gives me, to receive this Mark of Favour from your Hands."

On Monday laſt the Commiſſion from His Majeſty, appointing his Excellency Major General ROBERT MONCKTON, Captain General and Governor in Chief in and over the Province of New-York, and Territories depending thereon, in America, was publiſhed at the City Hall, with the uſual Solemnity: On which Occaſion his Excellency was attended by the Lieutenant Governor, His Majeſty's Council, the Gentlemen of the Clergy, the Gentlemen of the Corporation, the Sheriff with his proper Officers, and the City Militia under Arms. A conſiderable Number of Officers of the Army, and other Gentlemen of Diſtinction, accompanied the Proceſſion. At Night the City was handſomely illuminated.

They write from Vigo in Spain, that his Majeſty's Ship Blonde, Capt. Kennedy (Son of the Honourable Archibald Kennedy, Eſq; of this City) has retaken the Penelope, Allen, from Jamaica to Gibraltar, and carried her in there.

Sunday laſt being the Anniverſary of His preſent Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Throne of Great-Britain, the ſame was obſerved here by a Royal Diſcharge of the Cannon on Fort George.

We hear from Amboy, that 2 Whales were ſeen near that Place about a Fortnight ago, but before any Perſon properly ſkilled could be got, they had diſappeared, and are thought to be got back to Sea.

On Saturday laſt the Pitt Packet Boat, Capt. Goddard, ſailed for England.

Burlington, October 31, 1761.

This Afternoon the Commiſſion of His Excellency JOSIAH HARDY, Eſq; as Governor of New-Jerſey, was publiſhed here. The Corporation afterwards waited on him with the following Addreſs, viz.

To His Excellency JOSIAH HARDY, Eſq; Captain General, and Commander in Chief in and over His Majeſty's Province of Nova Cæſarea, or New-Jerſey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the ſame, &c.

May it pleaſe your EXCELLENCY,

THE Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of Burlington, beg Leave to congratulate your ſafe Arrival in this Province.

Though they are very much Strangers to your Perſon, they receive your Excellency with Pleaſure, and bid you a hearty Welcome to this City, and ſhall be glad of your Reſidence among them.

As a Tribute due to Merit, which we cannnot be ſuppoſed to magnify, permit us juſt to remember the Qualifications of your immediate Predeceſſor, and having no Reaſon to doubt that your Adminiſtration can leave any Room to regret the Loſs of that Gentleman, we would juſt remark, that his Veracity and publick Spirit, in the Execution of his Truſt, will render his Memory dear to us.

LOTTERY TICKETS for the Paving Philadelphia Streets, Oxford Church, German School-

May your Excellency long live among us happy and easy in the Discharge of the Duties of Government, and always receive from a grateful People the Retribution due to distinguished Merit.

Burlington, October 31, 1761. By Order of the City, RICHARD SMITH, Recorder.

To which his EXCELLENCY was pleased to return the following Answer.

GENTLEMEN,

I HEARTILY thank you for your kind Congratulations on my Arrival in this Country. Your Remembrance of the Qualifications of your late Governor, is very pleasing to me, and gives me Hopes that my Endeavours for the Service of this Province will meet with your Approbation. JOSIAH HARDY.

After which the under-written valedictory Address was delivered, in like Manner, to the late Governor.

To his Excellency THOMAS BOONE, Esq;

May it please your EXCELLENCY,

THE Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of Burlington, having this Opportunity, beg Leave just to mention that the public Spirit, Benevolence and Probity of your Administration, hath justly intitled you to our Friendship and Regard; and animated with Gratitude for the public Benefits received, we cannot but observe, now on your Departure, that wherever your Situation may be, our best Wishes will attend you.

By Order of the City,

His EXCELLENCY was pleased to return the following Answer.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM extremely happy to have your good Wishes and good Opinion accompany me to another Part of the World; and as I have great Reason to applaud your Conduct during my Administration, so, Gentlemen, shall I recollect it with Gratitude. THOMAS BOONE.

To the Gentlemen CONTRIBUTORS to the PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

THE Perspective View of the PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL, with the Elevation of the Plan, lately taken by Messieurs Winter and Montgomery, is now engraved, and ready for the Press; and as you have been Friends to the Institution, it is humbly hoped you'll be pleased to favour this Undertaking; which, you may be assured, is the best Piece of the Kind ever performed in America.

To prevent Imposition, these Prints are distinguished not only by its true Perspective, but also by its masterly Work, and the following Inscription contained on the first Stone:----

GEORGE the Second happily reigning,
(For he sought the Happiness of his People)
PHILADELPHIA Flourishing
(For its Inhabitants were public-spirited)
This Building,
By the Bounty of the Government,
And of many private Persons,
Was piously founded,
For the Relief of the Sick and Miserable;
May the God of Mercies
Bless the Undertaking.

Those Gentlemen that chuse to have them coloured, or framed, are requested to send their Commands to the Subscriber, in Third-street, opposite Mr. Joseph Fox's. ROBERT KENNEDY. ‡

The other of them named John Burk, a thick well-ſet fellow, and much the ſame ſize of ſaid M'Cormick, is an ill down-looking Fellow, with ſhort black Hair, and a ſwarthy Complexion: Had on when he went off, A brown Jacket, a blue under Jacket and Breeches, an old Felt Hat, and are about 35 Years old each. Whoever takes them up, and ſecures them in any Goal, ſo as they may be brought back to Eaſton, ſhall receive for each Three Pounds Reward if taken together; but for M'Cormick, if taken alone, Five Pounds, paid by me JOHN JENNINGS, Sheriff.

N. B. It is ſuppoſed that they have taken a black Horſe from Eaſton, and that they will take others the firſt Opportunity. †

New-Port (Rhode-Iſland) October 17, 1761.

RUN away the 15th of this Inſt. from Andrew Hunter, of New-Port, A Negroe Man, named Robert, about 5 Feet 9 Inches high, well made, and very ſquare ſhouldered, has a Mark, ſomewhat reſembling a burnt Scar, between his Cheeks and the Corner of his Mouth; the middle Tooth of his upper row wanting. He was born in Jamaica, ſpeaks good Engliſh, and is very artful and inſinuating. He took with him ſeveral Sorts of Apparel, and therefore cannot be deſcribed by any in particular. Whoever apprehends him, and will bring him to his Maſter, or confine him in any of his Majeſty's Goals, ſo that he may be had again, ſhall be paid Forty Pounds Old Tenor, as a Reward, with the neceſſary Charges, paid by ANDREW HUNTER.

PHILADELPHIA.

IN the early Days of this Province, the Legiſlature had ſuch a pious Concern for their ſmall Number of Inhabitants, as wiſely to provide, by an Act of Aſſembly, againſt a Practice at that Time ſhamefully prevailing among them, though forbidden by the Laws of GOD and Man, namely, that of LABOUR on the Sabbath or Firſt Day of the Week; but the Indifference and Contempt with which this excellent Proviſion is in theſe Days regarded, is Matter of juſt Sorrow and Complaint, to every ſerious Perſon, and ſuch as are well diſpoſed to the Laws of their Country. In order, therefore, to remind the Inhabitants of their Duty in this Particular, as well as of the Penalties to which they ſubject themſelves by their Breſch of known Laws, and to prevent, as much as poſſible, the ſpreading of a Practice ſo impious and unchriſtian, it is thought proper to publiſh ſome Extracts of the abovementioned Act, intituled, An Act to reſtrain People from Labour on the Firſt Day of the Week (to which Title may be added) and from drinking and tippling in Alehouſes and Taverns, or other Public-houſe or Place, on the ſaid Day; which laſt mentioned Practice is ſaid to be equally common in our City and Liberties, and therefore calls loudly for Reformation.

" To the End that all People within this Province may, " with the greater Freedom, devote themſelves to reli- " gious and pious Exerciſes, Be it enacted by the Autho- " rity aforeſaid, That according to the Example of the " Primitive Chriſtians, and for the Eaſe of the Creation, " every Firſt Day of the Week, commonly called Sunday, " all People ſhall abſtain from Toil and Labour, that " whether Maſters, Parents, Children, Servants, or others; " they may the better diſpoſe themſelves to read and hear " the Holy Scriptures of Truth at Home, and frequent " ſuch Meetings of religious Worſhip Abroad, as may " beſt ſuit their reſpective Perſuaſions. And that no " Tradeſman, Artificer, Workman, Labourer, or other " Perſon whatſoever, ſhall do or exerciſe any worldly Bu- " ſineſs or Work of their ordinary Callings, on the Firſt " Day, or any Part thereof (Works of Neceſſity and Cha- " rity only excepted) upon Pain that every Perſon ſo " offending ſhall, for every Offence, forfeit the Sum of " Twenty Shillings, to the Uſe of the Poor of the Place " where the Offence was committed; being thereof con- " victed before any Juſtice, either upon his View, Con- " feſſion of the Party, or Proof of one or more Witneſſes. " And the ſaid Juſtice ſhall give Warrant, under his Hand " and Seal, to the next Conſtable where ſuch Offence " ſhall be committed, to levy the ſaid Forfeiture or Pe- " nalty, by Diſtreſs and Sale of the Offender's Goods and " Chattels, rendering to the Offender the Overplus of the " Money raiſed thereby.

" And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, " That all Perſons who are found drinking and tippling " in Ale-Houſes, Taverns, or other Public Houſe or Place, " on the Firſt Day of the Week (commonly called Sunday) " or any Part thereof, ſhall, for every Offence, forfeit and " pay One Shilling and Six-pence, to any Conſtable that " ſhall demand the ſame, to the Uſe of the Poor: And " all Conſtables are hereby impowered, and, by Virtue of " their Office, required to ſearch Public Houſes and Pla- " ces, ſuſpected to entertain ſuch Tipplers, and them, " when found, quietly to diſperſe; but, in caſe of Re- " fuſal, to bring the Perſons ſo refuſing before the next " Juſtice of the Peace, who may commit ſuch Offenders " to the Stocks, and bind them to their good Behaviour, " as to him ſhall ſeem requiſite. And the Keepers of " ſuch Ale-Houſes, Taverns, or other Public Houſe or " Place, as ſhall countenance or tolerate any ſuch Practi- " ces, being convicted thereof, by the View of a ſingle " Magiſtrate, his own Confeſſion, or the Proof of one or " more Witneſſes, ſhall, for every Offence, forfeit and " pay Ten Shillings, to be recovered for the Uſes above- " ſaid.

" Provided always, That nothing in this Act be con- " ſtrued to prevent Victualling Houſes, or other Public " Houſe or Place, from ſupplying the neceſſary Occaſions " of Travellers, Inmates, Lodgers, or others, on the " Firſt Day of the Week, with Victuals and Drink, in " Moderation, for Refreſhment only; of which neceſſary " Occaſion for Refreſhment, as alſo Moderation, the Ma- " giſtrate before whom Complaint is made, ſhall be Judge, " any Law, Uſage or Cuſtom, in this Province, to the " contrary notwithſtanding."

It is likewiſe further thought neceſſary to publiſh at this Time, an Extract of an Act for the Trial of Negroes, as repeated Complaints have been made to the Magiſtrates, of great Diſorders frequently committed by Negroes aſſembling together in different Parts of this City and Liberties on Sundays, and at unſeaſonable Times of the Night.

" And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, " That if any Negroe ſhall preſume to carry any Guns, " Sword, Piſtol, Fowling-piece, Clubs, or other Arms of

" Weapons whatſoever, without his Maſter's ſpecial Li-
" cence for the ſame, and be convicted thereof before a
" Magiſtrate, he ſhall be whipt with Twenty-one Laſhes
" on his bare Back.

" And be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid,
" That for preventing Negroes meeting and accompany-
" ing together on the Firſt Days of the Week, or any
" other Day or Time, in great Companies or Numbers,
" that if any Perſon or Perſons give Notice thereof, and
" to whom they reſpectively belong, to any Juſtice of the " Peace within this Province, the ſame being above the " Number of four in Company, and upon no lawful Bu-
" ſineſs of their Maſters or Owners, ſuch Negroes ſo of" fending, ſhall be publickly whipt, at the Diſcretion of
" one Juſtice of the Peace, not exceeding Thirty-nine
" Laſhes."

All Perſons therefore, as well Inhabitants as others of this City, and Liberties, licenſed or otherwiſe, are hereby required ſtrictly to obſerve and govern themſelves agreeable to the above Laws, as they will anſwer the contrary at their Peril.

JACOB DUCHE, Mayor.

By Captain Lawrence, arrived at New-York, in 24 Days from the Orkneys, we have the following material Advices, viz.

From the LONDON GAZETTE.

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE, September 4.

Extract of a letter from Capt. Faulkner, of his Majeſty's ſhip the Bellona, of 74 guns, to Mr. Cleveland, dated Auguſt 21, 1761, in Liſbon river.

PLEASE to acquaint the lords commiſſioners of the admiralty, that on the 14th inſt. at 3 P. M. ſaw three ſail in the S. W. quarter, Cape Fineſterre bearing N. E. half E. diſtant 10 leagues; we immediately gave chace, and by their crowding from us ſoon ſuſpected them to be enemies. We came but ſlowly up with them, but continued the chace all night. At 5 A. M. we got almoſt up with the chace, and found them to be a large ſhip, and two frigates. At 6 the Brilliant began to engage with one of the frigates; ſoon after with the other alſo. Twenty five minutes after 6 we came along ſide the large ſhip, and began to engage as near as poſſible. Thirty-four minutes after 6, our mizen-maſt went away by the enemy's ſhot; and at forty-five minutes after 6, the enemy's mizen-maſt went over the ſide. At four minutes after 7 the large ſhip ſtruck, which proved Le Courageux of 74 guns, commanded by M. Dague L'Ambert, and had on board 700 men, from St. Domingo. The Brilliant continued to engage the two frigates. At half paſt ſeven the frigates bore away, and neither of our ſhips were in a condition to purſue them. At the ſame time the prize's mainmaſt went away. We found our lower rigging much cut; the foremaſt, mainmaſt, and maintopmaſt much ſhattered. We loſt in the action 6 men, and had 28 wounded. The enemy had 240 ſlain, and 110 wounded. We ſent our firſt lieutenant Mr. Male, with other officers, and 150 men, to take poſſeſſion of the prize, and received 224 priſoners on board. The Brilliant ſent 50, and received 100 priſoners on board. She had 5 killed, and 16 wounded; among the ſlain is the maſter.

" We have ſince heard that the above French frigates are called the Malicieux, Capt. Longueville; and the Hermione, Capt. Montigney, of 32 guns each.

" I muſt alſo beg leave to acquaint their lordſhips, that Capt. Logie, in the Brilliant, on the day of action, behaved like a ſkilful brave officer, in engaging the two frigates, and preventing their coming upon me. I alſo further aſſure their lordſhips, that the officers and ſhips company of both ſhips behaved with true bravery. The wind being ſtrong northerly after the engagement, and the ſhips much diſabled, was the reaſon of my bearing up for this place."

M. Dague L'Ambert, Capt. of the Le Courageux, received a wound in his neck in the beginning of the action, and it is thought he cannot live.

Pomerania, Auguſt 15. Yeſterday a few hundreds of Col. Belling's regiment furiouſly attacked the flank of the Swediſh army, two regiments of which they broke, and drove back upon their infantry, about 100 were killed upon the ſpot, and a great number wounded and priſoners. The Swedes retired to Waldeck, where Mr. Belling was following them.

Hanover, Auguſt 18. General Luckner continuing the purſuit of the Viſcount de Belſunce, came up with him near Uſſar, and, after a ſharp combat, obliged him to give way, having killed a great number of his men, made 400 priſoners, and taken two ſtandards.

We have certain accounts that there is a prodigious ſcarcity in the French army of M. Broglio.

The French have been repulſed in an attack they made on the 14th with 8000 men, and 6 pieces of cannon, upon the little town of Horn, which was defended by 300 men, thrown into it by Prince Ferdinand. The Prince has given great rewards to the brave men who defended it.

Magdelourg, Auguſt 20. Letters of the 17th and 18th from ſeveral places bring accounts, that General Laudohn having on the 15th detached 43 ſquadrons of Auſtrian cavalry, to join the Ruſſians, who had paſſed the Oder, and were encamped in the neighbourhood of Parckwirz, his Pruſſian Majeſty meeting with that body, on their march, had attacked, and entirely defeated them; made a great number of priſoners, and diſperſed the reſt.

Auguſt 27. The King had a conſiderable advantage in Sileſia on the 15th. The fact, as far as we can yet judge, appears to be this: The plan of Marſhal Butterlin and General Laudohn was to complete their junction near Parckwitz.

In order to this, the latter advanced 30 ſquadrons of his beſt cavalry, and ten battalions of grenadiers, who were attacked with ſuch vivacity by the King's troops, that only ten ſquadrons, and thoſe very roughly handled, joined the Ruſſians; the reſt returned to Gen. Laudohn; and that the junction of the two armies is certainly prevented. The King has now his head-quarters at the convent of Wahlſtadt, where he has an opportunity of obſerving the Auſtrians, who are poſted between Freybourg and Bagendorf; as alſo the Ruſſians, who have ſent their heavy baggage over the Oder, and it is not at all improbable that their army will follow them.

Brunſwick, Auguſt 21. This evening the corpſe of Prince Henry will be interred in the Cathedral church of this city. Their Serene Highneſſes the Duke of Brunſwick, the Landgrave of Heſſe, with all the general officers, will attend the funeral.

Advices from the ſide of the Weſer mention, that M. Broglio, having paſſed the Weſer at Hoxter, the 19th, the poſts of General Luckner had upon that been withdrawn towards Limbeck. Prince Ferdinand had alſo detached a corps over that river, under the command of Gen. Wutgenau, who is now poſted at Halle, on the road to Hamelen. Col. Freytag with his Chaſſeurs, are to be poſted on the Werra, to annoy the enemy's communication on that ſide. The loſs of the French, in priſoners, on the 14th and 15th, in the action with Gen. Luckner at Duſſel and Uſſar, amount to 43 officers, 759 ſoldiers, beſides 800 horſes taken.

Lipſtadt, Auguſt 28. The Marſhal Duke de Broglio has indeed paſſed the Weſer with no great loſs, but, for any thing we can perceive, to very little purpoſe. The city of Hanover is not to be taken by a Coupe de Main, ſo that he ſeems to be directing his march to the Werra and the Fulda. Duke Ferdinand is very diligent in cutting off the enemy's ſubſiſtence, and has been ſo ſucceſsful therein, that the French are in a very diſtreſſed condition. On the 26th the caſtle of Dringelberg upon the Dymel was ſuddenly inveſted, and the French garriſon made priſoners of war. The Marſhal Prince de Soubiſe has not been at all more fortunate than the Marſhal Duke. He firſt thought of beſieging Munſter; failing in that, he propoſed the reducing Ham, and being diſappointed in that by the celerity of the Hereditary Prince, he is now taking himſelf and his army back to the Dulman.

Hague, Sept. 1. Though we have not received any direct account from Prince Ferdinand's head-quarters, we are however informed from ſeveral places upon the Weſer, and in the neighbourhood, that after Marſhal Broglio had been obliged to paſs that river, and abandon Hoxter to the Allies, his Serene Highneſs had, by forced marches, gained the Dymel; and after forcing, in conjunction with the Hereditary Prince, all the enemy's poſts on that ſide, and particularly at Dringelberg, where upwards of 300 men had been made priſoners, his Serene Highneſs arrived with great part of his army, on the 26th of Auguſt, at Hoff-Gieſmar, in Heſſe. We are ſince informed, that he had puſhed a corps forward to Winter-Kaſten, near Caſſel; and that a large train of artillery and ſtores were in march to join him from Hamelen. In order to ſecure, during this march, that part of the Weſer between Hamelen and the Dymel, Prince Ferdinand left Gen. Sporcken with a body of troops at Hoxter. Theſe unexpected motions of the allied army, had obliged M. Broglio, who occupied with his army the country between Furſtenberg and Eimbeck, to fall back, and take a poſition nearer the Weſer, between Gottingen and Munden.

Hague, Auguſt 27. The new Britiſh Ambaſſador Extraordinary has given a grand entertainment, at which all people of diſtinction here were preſent. According to the laſt advices from the armies, Duke Ferdinand was advancing towards Caſſel, and the Hereditary Prince was at Wolferſhagen. All the letters from Paris ſpeak of peace as a thing at hand.

LONDON.

Auguſt 25. A private Letter from a Lady at Strelitz, gives the following Account of the Princeſs Charlotte, our intended Queen; " She is of a middle Size, but rather inclines to tall, has a fine Shape, graceful Carriage, fine Neck and Hands, brown Hair, round Face, blue Eyes, full of Sweetneſs, Mouth rather large, roſy Lips, and extreme fine Teeth, which appear when ſhe ſpeaks or laughs; ſhe dances well, hath a very gracious and engaging Air, a youthful Look, her Temper excellent, without the leaſt Tincture of Pride."

A certain right hon. commoner hath declared that the conqueſt of Louiſiana will not be undertaken this war; as the ceſſion of it to the Crown of Great-Britain will be one of the conditions on which Peace will be granted to France.

Aug. 27. An expreſs is gone to Commodore Keppel, with orders to uſe all poſſible diligence in the reduction of the iſles of Oleron and Rhee, with as many more of the neighbouring ones as poſſible.

We hear that on the day of His Majeſty's marriage, the merchants of London intend to wear favours in honour of the day.

A very great perſonage has had three letters ſent him of a very extraordinary nature.

We hear that the War is to be puſhed on with the utmoſt vigour, and the ſupplies to be raiſed towards carrying on the ſame, it is ſaid, will be by a new tax of 5 per cent. on all German and Ruſſian linens, 5 per cent on all Weſt-India commodities, and on livery ſervants, one guinea per annum each.

Some letters from Venice pretend, that the Turks are marching againſt the Ruſſians, to make a diverſion in favour of the King of Pruſſia.

The King in council has prorogued the parliament to Thurſday, the 8th day of October next.

They write from Liege, of the 17th inſt. that they now hear nothing of the meeting of the congreſs at Augſbourg. The Empreſs Queen, it is ſaid, has ordered her Plenipotentiaries to ſuſpend their preparations till further notice.

By all appearance M. de Buſſy and Mr. Stanley will ſoon return each to his own country, without ſucceeding in their miſſions.

Sept. 5. Letters from the allied army ſay, that the French court have ſtopped remittances to their army, upon pretence that the roads are unſafe.

They write from Hambourg, that the French having no hopes of penetrating this year into Hanover, have laid aſide the deſign of aſſembling an army of obſervation in Holſtein.

It is ſaid her Majeſty's crown only will coſt 200,000 l. and that her ſtomacher has 70,000 l. in jewels on it.

His Majeſty's ſhip the Bellona, Capt. Robert Faulkner, of 74 guns, and the Brilliant of 36, on their paſſage from Liſbon, in lat. 42, 30 north, about 14 leagues to the W. of Cape-Finiſterre, fell in with the Courageux of 74 guns, and two frigates of 30 guns each, bound from St. Domingo to Old France. The Brilliant engaged the two frigates near two hours, but receiving ſo much damage in her maſts and rigging, could not follow them when they ſheered off. The Bellona took the Courageux after an engagement of an hour very cloſe, in which the Frenchman had upwards of 200 men killed, and 110 wounded, and carried her into Liſbon. Juſt before the Courageux ſtruck, her mainmaſt, crowded with marines and ſailors, upon the main top and ſhrowds, went overboard, by which they were all drowned, which greatly encreaſed the number of their killed. Her cargo conſiſts of dollars, ſugar, indigo and coffee, and is eſteemed very rich.

On board her were ranſomers for the following ſhips, viz. Neptune, Capt. Redford, from New-London, to Barbados for 300 l.

Katherine, Archibald M'Millin, from Virginia for Glaſgow, 900 l.

Brotherhood, Coffin, from Piſcataque for Antigua, 200 l.

Endeavour, Anderſon, from New-Port to Madeira, 300 l.

Granby, Appowen, from Philadelphia for Jamaica, one ranſomer on board the Courageux, and one ditto on board the Malicieux, 1500 l.

The Col. Clive, Capt. Ronqueſt, from Jamaica, to London, 5000 l. one ranſomer. ---[There were three ranſomers, one of which on board the Malicieux, one ditto on board the Hermione.]

The Culloden, Knops, from Ireland to New-York, is taken by a privateer of Dunkirk, and ranſomed for 150 guineas.

Letters from Paris of the 25th ult. intimate, that ſome unforeſeen misfortune had befallen the army of Marſhal Broglio, as an expreſs had arrived to the commanding officer there, the contents of which were kept extreemly ſecret, only it was known that the heavy baggage had made a retrograde march on the 20th.

The Prince George, Captain Farr, is arrived at Dover, from Boſton.

The guns in the Park and at the tower were fired on Sunday noon, upon the news of her intended Majeſty's arrival.

Sept. 7. They write from Vienna, of the 25th ult. that the Congreſs of Augſbourg will not be opened until January next.

Extract of a Letter from Berlin, Auguſt 21.

" We have at length the Pleaſure of ſeeing all the mighty Schemes of the Enemy rendered abortive by the Prudence, the Vigilance, the Activity of our Monarch, aſſiſted by the Bleſſing of the Almighty; their numerous Armies baffled, their Attempts defeated, and the Leagues of combined Princes overthrown. At the Opening of the Campaign, when we conſidered the unequal Force his Majeſty had to cope with, and the Inveteracy of the Powers riſen up in Arms againſt him, it was not without Reaſon that we began to fear leſt he ſhould at laſt fall a Victim to their Hatred. But the Meaſures his Majeſty took to prevent a Junction of thoſe Forces, which breathed nothing but Deſtruction to us, ſoon diſpelled theſe gloomy Ideas; and we have now received, by more than one Courier, the joyful News of a great Victory obtained by him on the 15th near Parckwitz, over the very Flower of all Laudohn's Army. This Gen. it ſeems, being deſirous of effecting his Junction with the Ruſſians, who had paſſed the Oder between Auras and Lebus, had diſpatched a Body of 12,000 Men, principally Horſe, under the Command of Gen. Brentano; which our Monarch getting Intelligence of, he attacked them in their Route, and ſoon defeated them in ſuch a Manner, that they have been obliged to leave all their Artillery, with their Colours, and other Military Trophies, behind them. After this his Majeſty leaving Gen. Ziethen to command a Part of his Army, with Orders to purſue without the leaſt Intermiſſion, turned ſuddenly upon the Ruſſians, who were advanced to join them on the other Side, under the Conduct of Count Fermor; but the News of the Defeat of the Auſtrians having already reached their Ears, they waited not his coming, but retired, with the greateſt Precipitation, over the Oder.

" All, therefore, that our glorious Monarch could do, was to cannonade them in their Flight; and this was done with ſo much Succeſs, that of the 30,000, which it is ſuppoſed were got over, near one Third have been taken or deſtroyed. Of theſe between 3 and 4000 are killed, near as many drowned in their Paſſage over the Oder, and two whole Regiments taken Priſoners. The reſt are flying in Confuſion to Marſhal Butterlin's Camp, who is himſelf alſo retreating as faſt as poſſible. For the Auſtrians under Laudohn, as they have loſt near all their Horſe, and thoſe too by much the beſt in his Army, we look upon it as over with them this Campaign, and therefore have nothing to fear from Sileſia.

" We have not yet received an exact Account of the Number of Standards and Artillery taken from the Auſtrians, but it is ſaid, that among the latter are no leſs than 17 large Pieces, with ſeveral Pair of Colours. The Ruſſians alſo have loſt ſome Cannon and Standards, a Liſt of which is hourly expected, together with the Particulars of theſe great Actions, ſo welcome to the Inhabitants of this Kingdom."

A private letter from the Hague aſſures us, that they have certain intelligence from Paris, that the miniſtry, for the ſake of peace, have reſolved to relinquiſh the whole country of Canada ſimply, and without reſerve, provided they obtain the Deſart Iſland of Sable, for the commodious drying the fiſh taken on the banks of Newfoundland.

It is ſaid one point of the preliminary articles inſiſted on by the French court, is the reſtitution of BELLEISLE, which has been poſitively denied.

The French court being under great apprehenſions of a ſudded invaſion of the province of Britanny by the Engliſh from Belleiſle, ſeem reſolved upon recalling the French and Swiſs guards from Germany.

ST. JAMES'S, September 8.

Her Moſt Serene Highneſs the Princeſs Charlotte of Mecklenburgh, having embarked on board His Majeſty's Yacht at Stade, the 22d paſt, and fallen down the Elbe to Cuxhaven, ſailed from thence the 28th, and arrived in the Port of Harwich on Sunday Evening laſt, the 6th Inſtant. Her Highneſs continued that Night, and dined Yeſterday, on board: After which ſhe ſet out from Harwich, and lay laſt Night at the Earl of Abercorn's Houſe, at Witham, in Eſſex; from whence her Highneſs ſet out this Morning at Eight, and arrived at a Quarter paſt Three at His Majeſty's Palace at St. James's, where ſhe alighted at the Garden Gate, and was received by the King, and all the Royal Family. At Nine this Evening the Marriage Ceremony, between His Majeſty and her moſt Serene Highneſs, will be ſolemnized by the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in the Royal Chapel there.

September 10. Sunday laſt, directly after firing their Guns, a fine new Standard, and Union Flag, was hoiſted on Greenwich Hoſpital, in which was quartered, in the lower Diviſion of the ſiniſter Side, the Arms of the Queen, viz. the Field Or, i. e. yellow Ground, ſpotted with Cinque Foils, or Red Roſes; in the Middle, a black Lion rampant.

We are told, that when her Majeſty got to Colcheſter, ſhe ſtopt at the houſe of Mr. Enew, where ſhe was received and waited upon by Mrs. Enew and Mrs. Rebow; but Capt. Beſt attended her with coffee, and Lieut. John Seaber with tea. Mr. Great, of Colcheſter, had the honour of preſenting to her Majeſty, while ſhe was at Mr. Enew's houſe, a box of candied eringo root (a product of Colcheſter, with which the royal family are always preſented when they come that way) and was introduced by the Earl of Harcourt.

Her Majeſty alighted at the garden gate, being handed out of the coach by his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York, and upon her entrance into the garden ſhe ſunk on her knee to the king, who in a moſt affectionate manner raiſing her up, ſaluted her, and then led her with his right hand into the palace, where ſhe dined with His Majeſty, the Princeſs Dowager, and the Princeſs Auguſta. Her Highneſs's arrival at the palace was immediately proclaimed, by the firing of the guns in St. James's Park, which were immediately followed by those of the Tower: And at half an hour past ten, on Tuesday night, the guns in the Park and at the Tower were fired again, on the joining of his Majesty's and the Princess's hands. The houses in the city of London and Westminster (excepting such parts as were prohibited by his Majesty's command, in order to prevent fire amongst the timber erections for the coronation) were illuminated, and the evening concluded with the utmost demonstrations of joy.

BOSTON, November 2.

On Monday last a Vessel arrived at Marblehead from Barbados in 19 Days, by which we have Advice, that on the 6th of October ult. a Packet arrived there from England; on which an Embargo was immediately laid on all the Shipping there: That Com. Douglass had ordered that all His Majesty's Ships, as they came into Barbados, should lay by for his further Orders: That from sundry strong and credible Reports, they soon expected an Armament to go against Martinico. This Vessel being cleared out, got away in the Night following, the 6th ult. notwithstanding the Embargo, leaving one of her Hands behind.

NEW-YORK, November 5.

On Tuesday Morning last 17 Guns were fired from Fort George, on the Arrival of His Excellency Sir Jeffery Amherst, K. B. from the Army on Staten Island, where His Excellency General Monckton, Governor of this Province, now has the Command.

November 9. Captain Lawrence left Amsterdam the 7th of September, where it was currently reported that the King of Prussia had had two different engagements with Gen. Laudohn, and was victorious in both, but that he could not learn the particulars with any certainty; that he arrived at Stromness the 14th of September, and remained there till the 9th of October following; that during his stay there, London papers were received at Kirkwall, 16 miles from Stromness, giving an account of the junction of the Austrian and Russian armies, and that his Prussian Majesty was in a manner surrounded on all sides; that a large fleet, that for some time before had been collecting together at Spithead, was joined by 4 ships of the line, and 4 regiments of foot, and had sailed on a secret expedition; that a Brig from Riga for Liverpool had put into Stromness three days before Capt. Lawrence sailed, the master whereof reported, that the English consul at Riga acquainted him of the death of the Empress of Russia, and that he might affirm it for truth in the first English port he went into; that Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick had laid open the passage to Hanover, but that Marshal Broglio did not chuse to proceed, lest his retreat should be cut off, and all his magazines destroyed; that M. Bussy, the French minister, had taken his departure for Paris; as had also Mr. Stanley his from Paris for London.

The camp at Staten-Island will break up in a few days, as several regiments are already embarked on board the transports.

PHILADELPHIA, November 12.

Last Week, at a Court of Oyer and Terminer, and General Goal Delivery, held at Lancaster, Charles Holly (a Mulattoe) was convicted of the Murder of Darby Loobey; Nehemiah Armstrong found Guilty of Bestiality; and Henry Xander brought in for Manslaughter; when the two first received Sentence of Death, and the last burnt in the Hand.

Yesterday Captain Noarth arrived here from South-Carolina; but brings no material Advices.

SCHEME

Of a LOTTERY, for raising £ 3000 to be applied to erect a LIGHTHOUSE on Cape-Henlopen, and otherwise to facilitate the Navigation of the Delaware.

THE Want of a LIGHTHOUSE on Cape-Henlopen has been much complained of, by all that are acquainted with this Port; and sad Experience almost every Winter shews the Necessity of providing some Shelter from Ice for the Shipping that pass up and down the River at that dangerous Season: But hitherto no Plan has been laid, to execute Purposes of so much Importance to this trading City. Commerce increasing, and frequent Accidents befalling the Shipping, it is judged highly expedient to think seriously of remedying these Inconveniences. And in order thereto, it is proposed to raise, by the following Lottery, £ 3000, Pennsylvania Currency.------As every One in this Country is indebted to Trade for his Support, it is expected that especial Regard will be paid to so useful an Intention. The Merchants and Insurers residing here in particular, will doubtless give their Assistance; and those in the other Ports of North-America must acknowledge, that such Helps to our Navigation will not be confined to ourselves, but be of general Utility.

PARIS, Auguſt 15.

THE parliament of Douay has wrote the following letter to the king, which bears all the marks of a zeal the moſt reſpectful, ſenſible, generous, truly patriotic and political.

SIRE,

"A diſhonourable peace, after an unfortunate war, would be to France the height of ignominy; and the ſpeedy ſource of a new war, more fatal perhaps than that which ſhe had terminated. 'Tis therefore to your people, Sire, a point of honour, a motive beyond all intereſt! a point of neceſſity, a motive beyond every other motive! to furniſh your majeſty with ſuccours capable of vanquiſhing or tiring the obſtinacy, the arrogance, the fortune of our enemies; with ſuccours capable of making them yet feel, what they have experienced ſo many times, that French generoſity ſets no value upon eſtate and life, when Glory is in queſtion, and that is never more terrible than when even decay and the reverſe agitate it with the horror of contempt; with ſuccours, in ſhort, capable of obliging nations allied only by the deſire of vexing humanity, to finiſh, by a juſt and reaſonable treaty, a war to which they have forced us, without reaſon, and againſt all juſtice.

"Theſe ſentiments, thoſe of Frenchmen at all times, thoſe eſpecially of your Frenchmen, we ſee with joy engraven on the hearts of our countrymen, expreſſed in their diſcourſe, and by their conduct; and we are ever eager, in all circumſtances, to ſet them the leſſon and example.

"In this ſpirit, Sire, we have not heſitated to enregiſter, purely and ſimply, the declaration of the 16th of June laſt, prolonging for two years the double capitation, and the third twentieth penny, becauſe we have perceived the diſtance of peace, and the probable continuance of the war for two years.

"But at the ſame time we have no doubt, that if heaven, filling up our wiſhes, and anticipating our hopes, ſhould deign to reſtore reconciliation and repoſe before that term, your majeſty will cauſe thoſe heavy impoſitions to ceaſe with the war that is the object of them."

Vienna, Auguſt 14. The court hath juſt received advice, from Gen. Laudohn, that in conſequence of Tottleben's treachery, there were ſtill traitors either in his army or that of the Ruſſians, having received undoubted intelligence that the King of Pruſſia had been informed of the whole plan of operations for this campaign; which had not only prevented the junction with the Ruſſians, but had alſo enabled his Pruſſian Majeſty to take ſuch meaſures for covering Breſlau, Schweidnitz, and Neiſs (which were all to have been attacked at once, whilſt a fourth army gave the King battle) that the execution of the deſign ſo well laid, was no longer practicable. Laudohn adds, that he could not promiſe to do any thing, till the plan of operations ſhould be entirely changed.

Paderborn, Auguſt 23. Marſhal Broglio having received a ſecond reinforcement of about 8000 horſe and foot from the army of the Prince de Soubiſe, croſſed the Weſer laſt Wedneſday, and is again advancing towards the Electorate of Hanover; and we hear that his whole army will be to-morrow at Moringen, within a few miles of Eimbeck. His Serene Highneſs Prince Ferdinand having been informed of theſe motions, has ordered General Wutgenau to take poſt, with a conſiderable corps, at Halle; in the mean time the Allied army has reached Furſtenau; and we expect to hear, by the next poſt, that they have continued their march towards the enemy.

Dorſten, Auguſt 24. The Prince de Soubiſe has begun to inveſt Munſter, under the walls of which town General Kielmanſegge is poſted with 12,000 Hanoverians. We are now actually building ovens for ſupplying the French army with bread during the ſiege; and the heavy artillery, deſtined for the reduction of Munſter, are daily expected from Weſel. 'Tis thought that this is a ſcheme of the two French Generals, in order to oblige Prince Ferdinand to divide his army, as Marſhal Broglio may advance with greater ſecurity towards the borders of Hanover.

Weſel, Auguſt 18. The army under the command of the Prince of Soubiſe is advanced to Appenhulſe near Munſter. The Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick has left a body of 12,000 Hanoverians, under the command of Gen. Kielmanſegge, to cover Munſter, and is marched, with the reſt of his army, to join Prince Ferdinand at Newhaus.

We have ſent hence every thing neceſſary for building our ovens at Dorſten; and there are 78 pieces of heavy cannon, with every thing requiſite for undertaking a ſiege, ready to march on the firſt orders.

Paris, Auguſt 28. We are aſſured, that within theſe few days 15 or 16 Engliſh men of war have been ſeen off Rochelle; and that about the ſame time, troops and artillery were perceived embarking on board tranſports in Belleiſle road. Theſe circumſtances make us think the Engliſh intend ſome new enterprize on our coaſts; but we are every where ſo well upon our guard, that their deſigns muſt miſcarry. A conſiderable armament is preparing at at Breſt and Rochfort.

Augſbourg (a very large and elegant city of Suabia, in Germany) Auguſt 24. There is daily more likelihood, that the congreſs will not take place ſo ſoon as was expected, and ſome people even pretend that it is entirely ſuſpended. The proprietors of the houſes taken for the ſeveral miniſters continue however to have their rent paid them.

St. James's, Auguſt 28. After the Princeſs of Mecklenburgh was eſpouſed by proxy at Strelitz, by Lord Harcourt, ſhe was attended as Queen, dined alone at table, and was ſerved by her attendants on the knee. On her way to Stade all poſſible honours were ſhewn her: One melancholy ſcene only appeared; which was, that all the people of Strelitz were in tears at her departure.

LONDON.

Auguſt 25. His Majeſty's ſhip Aquilon, Capt. Ogle, has taken and ſent into Plymouth the Subtile, a French frigate, belonging to the Eaſt-India company, of 16 guns, and 90 men. She had diſpatches on board, but the Frenchman threw them overboard, and is laden with coffee and pepper.

The unfortunate army of the Empire has not only been diſappointed in their deſign upon Leipſic, but, while they were intent upon that enterprize, a ſmall corps of Pruſſian huſſars fell upon their rear, and made themſelves maſters of their military cheſt, in which they found 9000 rixdollars; no very large ſum indeed, being about a rixdollar a head for the whole army, and every farthing they had.

Auguſt 27. All the king's ſhips judged fit for the ſea in the different ports of the kingdom, are fitting out with all poſſible expedition, as if we were only in the morning of a war.

Auguſt 29. In a grand council held at Verſailles, it was propoſed to borrow ſix millions of the Eaſt-India company. But the directors have preſented a petition, ſetting forth their inability, occaſioned by the loſs they had ſuſtained by the taking of Pondicherry, and their other ſettlements on the coaſt of Coromandel.

The laſt letters from Sileſia, repreſent the campaign as in a manner finiſhed for the Auſtrians; the king of Pruſſia being, by Gen. Tottleben's treachery, informed of the plan of operations concerted between the Auſtrians and Ruſſians, had withdrawn his troops to Schweidnitz, Breſlau and Neiſs, where they could not be attacked.

We hear that the ſilver medals which will be thrown among the populace, by the warden of the mint, at his majeſty's coronation, are worth about 4s. 6d. and the gold medals, which will be delivered to the nobility and gentry on this occaſion, are valued at four guineas and an half.

By a letter from Bombay in the Eaſt-Indies, dated Dec. 13, we have advice, that there were 18 ſhips of war there, ſeveral of which were refitting to ſail for England, ſo great a number being rendered unneceſſary in thoſe ſeas, by the great ſucceſſes of the Engliſh; the particulars of which, this letter-writer ſays, are ſo numerous, that he has not time to enumerate them.

Sept. 7. Two falcons, from the Highlands of Scotland, are brought to town, being the cuſtomary acknowledgment from the Duke of Athol, as king in the Iſle of Man, at all coronations. Each leg of theſe birds is ornamented with a ſilver ring, and two bells.

Saturday arrived from Amſterdam, Baron Hop's ſon and lady, as did ſeveral other gentlemen and ladies; and laſt Friday ſeveral perſons of the firſt rank alſo arrived in town from Venice, to ſee the coronation.

Friday 1,140,000 l. was paid into the bank of England, being the ſeventh payment of ten per cent. towards the Twelve Millions raiſed by ſubſcription for the current year. There are now only two payments remaining, and half of that already paid in.

A private letter from Magdebourg to a merchant in London ſays, that the king of Pruſſia, in the action of the 15th of laſt month, had taken from the Auſtrians 14 pair of colours and ſtandards, and that a Pruſſian huſſar took two with his own hands.

A rumour prevails at Hamburgh, which poſſibly may not be deſtitute of foundation, that the Ruſſians finding Breſlau and Colberg in a much better ſituation than they expected, and than they were repreſented to be by the Auſtrians, have reſolved to make one vigorous attack upon each; and if theſe attempts do not ſucceed, to return into winter quarters; from an apprehenſion, that if there is another campaign, they may have more enemies to deal with than they have at preſent.

Sept. 8. They write from Stockholm, that their fleet is ready to ſail from Carelſcroon, to join that of Ruſſia. It conſiſts of one ſhip of 70 guns, two of 60 one of 56, two of 50, one of 36, one of 30, an hoſpital ſhip, a victuallor, and two flutes.

It is reported, that according to ſome letters from Madrid, a complaint has been made to the Spaniſh court, that the Beaumont, an Eaſt-India ſhip, belonging to the French, had been taken by a letter of marque ſhip, belonging to Briſtol, within the juriſdiction of Spain, that is to ſay, within thirty leagues of the coaſt; and that the legality of the capture was like to be diſputed by the owners.

It is ſaid that the reduction of all the Weſt-India iſlands is under conſideration, and a plan for that purpoſe, with proper commiſſions, &c. preparing to carry it ſpeedily into execution.

Letters from Paris of the 21ſt, mention, that on the preceding day a courier arrived there from London, with an anſwer to the laſt propoſals made by France; by which the Engliſh ſeem unalterable in their demands.

It is ſaid that a convention is concluded, by the mediation of his Britannic Majeſty, between the King of Pruſſia and the two branches of Schwerin and Strelitz, of the houſe of Mecklenburgh, by virtue of which the Pruſſians are to evacuate all that country.

His majeſty's ſhip the Royal George, of 100 guns, is ready for the ſea, and it is reported Sir Edward Hawke will ſoon hoiſt his flag on board of her.

Some private letters from Paris intimate, that the court of France perceiving our naval force too powerful to admit of their attempting any enterprize on the coaſts of this kingdom, had laid their ſtrange projects aſide for the preſent.

CHARLESTOWN (South-Carolina) Sept. 30.

CAPTAIN RASH, in the letter of marque brig Conſtant Catherine, who arrived here on Monday laſt, ſailed the 26th paſt from Philadelphia for Barbados. On Wedneſday the 16th inſtant, in lat. 29 N. long. 56 W. the wind began to blow very hard at eaſt, and next day increaſed to a very violent degree; the ſtorm continued, with little variation, to the 22d, when it abated, and he found the lat. 31. 54 N. and long 65 W. On the 17th they were obliged to ſtave their water caſks, and to heave them overboard, together with five ſwivel guns, ſome ſtaves, and ſundry other things, to clear the deck. The veſſel the ſame day was hove on her beam ends, and lay a conſiderable time before ſhe wore; they then began to ſcud, and the gale increaſing, were obliged to throw over their guns, viz. four ſix and four pounders; at 10 P. M. the veſſel broached to, but providentially righted again. On the 19th, whilſt ſcudding, they ſaw a wreck, which was a brig, with only her foremaſt ſtanding. They were obliged to heave a cable overboard on the 21ſt, with ſeveral other things: That day the veſſel again broached to; almoſt all the ſails were beat to pieces; happily no lives were loſt.

October 14.

Colonel GRANT's Head-Quarters near Fort Prince George, Tueſday, October 6, 1761.

"The Overhills Cherokees ſent down meſſengers ſome weeks ago to no other purpoſe than to ſhow their deſign of peace; the ſenſe they have of their paſt folly; their firm reſolution never to give any offence again; the miſery of the whole nation; and the want of the renewal of the trade.----Oucannoſtota's talk to Col. Grant is really a maſter-piece of its kind. It is given in the name of the whole nation, is more diſtinct, more emphatick, and more regular than moſt of the talks from Indians.----Oucannoſtota is buſy collecting the priſoners and horſes, but is not expected to bring them down till the Little-Carpenter returns, and acquaints the nation of the terms of peace.---It is ſaid we ſhall march in a week, but the day of march is not fixed, and this is only conjecture."

Ninety-Six, October 7. "About 400 men arrived here from Fort Prince George ſome weeks ago, of theſe upwards of 300 are of the troops, and the others waggoners, &c. ſeveral gangs of cattle have been and continue to be ſent to the camp; we have now here 300 head, and expect 100 more immediately.----This moment an expreſs is arrived from Col. Grant, with orders to provide a large number of hogs, for the uſe of the troops.

"Yeſterday Attakullakulla, or the Little-Carpenter, with the other Indians, ſet out from hence for their nation: Their horſes being loaded, they are obliged to walk the whole way. Before he ſet out, he diſpatched the Indian which we had here priſoner to Col. Grant and the Indians, with account of the time he expected to get up; and that Oucannoſtota, Saloué, and the other headmen, might have the priſoners, &c. at camp by the time he ſhould get there, or as ſoon after as poſſible."

Auguſta, October 5. "Our laſt accounts from the Upper-Creeks give good reaſon to expect that they will allow the goods for the Chickeſaws to paſs quietly through their country: The proſpect of a peace with the Cherokees gives great ſatisfaction here, and, we make no doubt, will diſconcert any meaſures the Creeks may have formed againſt us.

"The report of Capt. Colbert's being killed, brought here we do not know how, is altogether without foundation: He is arrived in the Chickeſaw nation ſafe, nor do we learn that any of the Chickeſaws that went with him from hence are killed.

"All the Lower Creek towns, except one or two, continue the war hotly againſt the Spaniards."

October 17. Laſt Saturday evening we received the following particulars of the late hurricane on the coaſt of North-Carolina, viz. That it began on the 21ſt ult. in the evening, and continued without abating till the 24th, blew down many houſes, tore up abundance of trees, deſtroyed the greateſt part of the crops, and drove all the veſſels in Cape-Fear river aſhore, except a ſnow which cut away her maſts, and a ſloop for Philadelphia, that rode it out at Fort Johnſon: That when it began the wind was at S. E. which ſhifted continually during the whole time, but was ſevereſt, and did moſt miſchief on the 22d: That about four miles below, and nearly oppoſite to Brunſwick, the ſea forced a paſſage through a neck of land called Bald-Head, and formed a channel half a mile (and in ſome parts three quarters) wide, when our accounts were dated, 14 feet deep at low water, and which continued to deepen, as was obſerved upon ſounding on different days; ſo that the navigation of Cape-Fear river, from being the moſt difficult, is changed to the eaſieſt and ſafeſt on that part of the continent, the Frying-pan, the Bar, and other ſhoals, all being avoided by veſſels falling into the N. E. and the paſſage much ſhortened to Brunſwick: That on other parts of the coaſt, more new inlets are made; ſome above a league in width; one in particular into a ſound, about 14 miles from Wilmington, which is three miles wide, and 9 feet deep at low water. Doubtleſs ſeveral veſſels muſt have periſhed in this terrible tempeſt; but as yet we have only heard of a ſnow of and for New-York, from Jamaica, Chriſtopher Miller maſter, which was beat to pieces about 9 leagues N. E. of the Frying-pan, whoſe crew and part of her rigging were however ſaved. Ever ſince the hurricane, we hear, the flood makes three hours later on Cape-Fear Bar than formerly.

October 21. Major ROGERS arrived in town on Saturday laſt from the army. The Indians ſent off from Ninety-Six, was arrived at the camp.---On Saturday 10th, Attakullakulla was met on his way about 30 miles from Fort Prince-George.

BOSTON, November 9.

Laſt Sunday was committed to the goal in Worceſter, three men, who call themſelves Joſeph Bias, Charles Harriſon, and John Turner, for robbing one Mr. Haſtings, of Weſtborough, on the highway, a little after ſun down, the evening before: They had alſo attempted to rob one or two other perſons who were travelling ſingly on the road; demanding them to deliver their money, and threatening their lives in caſe of refuſal: The firſt that they aſſaulted in this manner, not thinking their arguments ſufficient for the delivery of his money without a more valuable conſideration than their threats, reaſoned with them ſo ſoundly with his ſtick, as to knock down two of his antagoniſts, and to make his eſcape from the third. ---Theſe Highwaymen being cloſely purſued on Saturday night, were apprehended the next morning when at breakfaſt, at a houſe in Holden, and committed as above.---They ſay they came from Boſton, where they lately arrived from England; they appear to be ſeamen, and were all on horſeback, but their horſes it is thought were ſtolen.

We hear from Portſmouth, New-Hampſhire, that the Earthquake was ſenſibly felt there, and other places to the Eaſtward, on the evening of the 1ſt inſt. a few minutes after 8 o'clock; and that at Londonderry it was of conſiderable duration, and the morning after another ſhock before day-light.

A brig from Leith, in Scotland, bound for Quebec, after beating a conſiderable time in the river St. Lawrence, and meeting with contrary winds, was obliged to put in here laſt Saturday, after being out eleven weeks.

NEW-YORK, November 12.

Within theſe few days the troops encamped on Staten-Iſland, are all embarked, the tents ſtruck, and almoſt every thing in readineſs for the fleet (conſiſting of above 100 ſail) to proceed on the expedition, under the command of his Excellency the Honourable Major General MONCKTON, Governor of this province.

We have reaſon to hope that theſe brave troops (with their experienced commander) who have had ſo great a ſhare in the conqueſt of Canada, will acquire freſh glory in this expedition; which we hope will be crowned with ſucceſs, and complete their military ſervice, by reducing our enemies to an incapacity of ſupporting the war, and the neceſſity of accepting reaſonable terms of peace.

November 16. Friday laſt Capt. Mayers arrived here from Londonderry in 7 weeks and 4 days: He left Loughindale, in company with the ſnow Lord Dunluce, of Lairne, for this port alſo.

Yeſterday his Excellency the Honourable ROBERT MONCKTON, Governor and Commander in chief of this province, and Major General of His Majeſty's forces, embarked, to take upon him the command of the expedition, in which the publick will undoubtedly join in heartily wiſhing Him the Bleſſings of HONOUR, GLORY, AND SUCCESS.---He was ſaluted on going off by a diſcharge of the cannon on Fort George, and welcomed by a diſcharge of the ſhips guns when he got on board.

As the wind is fair, we doubt not the fleet will get under way this morning:---They are under convoy of the Devonſhire, Capt. Darby, of 66 guns,---the Alcide, Capt. Hankerſon, of 64 guns,---the Norwich, Capt. M'Cleverty, of 50 guns,---the Penzance, Capt. Boyd, of 44 guns, ----and the Prince Edward, Capt. Shackerle, of 32 guns.

PHILADELPHIA, November 19.

Captain Clarke, in 47 days from Fyall, adviſes, that three days before he ſailed, a French Xebeck, of 16 guns, and 120 men, left that place, in order to cruize on this coaſt; and that on the 22d of laſt month, in lat. 36, long. 56, he fell in with the ſame veſſel, but by Out-ſailing got clear of her.

On Sunday laſt a Marcus-Hook ſhallop overſet in the river, by which a man, and two women, were drowned.

The ſhip Royal Ann, Capt. Smith, of this port, bound to Guadaloupe, overſet in a gale of wind; but, on cutting away his maſts, righted again, and was afterwards taken by two French privateers.

A brig, belonging to Maryland, and bound in here from Madeira, was likewiſe taken, but diſcharged, after ſeveral Things were taken out of her by the Enemy.

From Providence there is advice, that the Brig Succeſs, of that port, bound to Antigua, was taken by a French privateer, and carried to St. Thomas's: And that a New-London ſloop, bound to Barbados, had put in there, having loſt her maſt, and thrown a number of horſes overboard, in a ſtorm.

SCHEME

Of a LOTTERY, for raiſing £ 3000 to be applied to erect a LIGHTHOUSE on Cape-Henlopen, and otherwiſe to facilitate the Navigation of the Delaware.

THE Want of a LIGHTHOUSE on Cape-Henlopen has been much complained of, by all that are acquainted with this Port; and ſad Experience almoſt every Winter ſhews the Neceſſity of providing ſome Shelter from Ice for the Shipping that paſs up and down the River at that dangerous Seaſon: But hitherto no Plan has been laid, to execute Purpoſes of ſo much Importance to this trading City. Commerce increaſing, and frequent Accidents befalling the Shipping, it is judged highly expedient to think ſeriouſly of remedying theſe Inconveniences. And in order thereto, it is propoſed to raiſe, by the following Lottery, £ 3000, Pennſylvania Currency.------As every One in this Country is indebted to Trade for his Support, it is expected that eſpecial Regard will be paid to ſo uſeful an Intention. The Merchants and Inſurers reſiding here in particular, will doubtleſs give their Aſſiſtance; and thoſe in the other Ports of North-America muſt acknowledge, that ſuch Helps to our Navigation will not be confined to ourſelves, but be of general Utility.

NOTICE is hereby given,

THAT whereas a Number of Gentlemen in Pennſylvania, Maryland, and New-Jerſey, within theſe two Years paſt, ſubſcribed to the publiſhing a Book by THOMAS ABEL (conſiſting of Subtenſial Plain Trigonometry, applied to Navigation and Surveying. Alſo Menſuration of Maſon's Work; a Solution of Rota, or Ariſtotle's Wheel. And a brief Diſcourſe upon Gravity) and many of them have not yet ſent for their Books, though they have been advertiſed in this Paper four or five Months paſt, to be delivered by Andrew Steuart, at the Bible-in-Heart, in Second-ſtreet, Philadelphia. Theſe are therefore to deſire ſuch Subſcribers to ſend for their Books as ſoon as poſſible.

Gentlemen Subſcribers; the moſt of you, at the Time of ſubſcribing, were pleaſed to ſay, that you ſubſcribed out of no other Motive than to encourage uſeful Improvements in Arts. If you call or ſend for your Books ſoon, I ſhall be no Gainer by them; but if you entirely neglect to ſend or call for them, the Conſequence muſt be the Ruin of myſelf and Family; and ſo far from encouraging uſeful Improvements, that it will be a Diſcouragement, not only to me, but to any other Man, ever to attempt any Thing of the Kind in America, for the Benefit of the Public. My Neceſſity requires Haſte, therefore I beg you would delay no longer.

¶ THOMAS ABEL.

N. B. There are ſome Books more than are ſubſcribed for, to be diſpoſed of by ſaid Steuart.

 I underſtand that many Perſons, from a ſuperficial Survey of my Performance, have ſcurrilouſly reported that there is nothing new in it; I challenge all ſuch Perſons to prove their Aſſertion; and deſire it may be done in public, otherwiſe it may reaſonably be thought they are conſcious they have injured me wrongfully, in obſtructing the Sale of my Books.

November 26, 1761. NUMB. 1718.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By Captain Niblo, in a ſhort Paſſage from Cork, we have the following Advices, viz.

GENOA, Auguſt 22.

THE harveſt being very plentiful this Year in Spain, the king, out of his great paternal love for his people, has taken this opportunity to make good the deficiencies of five ſcaree years. His Majeſty's intention in ſo doing is to fix the price of corn, ſo that it may neither riſe nor fall, and the regulation intended is ſo wiſely calculated, that it is a wonder it is not univerſally adapted.

From General Laudohn's army, near Freyberg, in Sileſia, Auguſt 24. The Ruſſian army is not ſo conſiderable as ours. Their artillery is very numerous, beſides which General Laudohn ſent them more artillery with our cavalry. Yeſterday the Ruſſians were in motion, and they are marching towards Striegau, near the enemy, which may poſſibly bring on a general affair. Sileſia will be ruined by ſuch numerous armies.

Vienna, Sept. 5. The King of Pruſſia, who, according to our laſt accounts, was intrenched near Schweidnitz, is obliged to draw his proviſions from the magazines of that place and Breſlau. The Ruſſians are alſo ill ſupplied with proviſions, as they can bring none over the Oder; their ſubſiſtence is therefore brought from Bohemia. Lignitz ſerves them for a Place of arms.

Trautenau, Sept. 1. General Laudohn hath poſted his army ſo, that it forms a chain from Freyberg to Bogendorff. Gen. Brentano occupies the heights of Striegau, Gen. Janus covers the right flank of the army near Bogendorff, and Gen. Beck has a communication with the Ruſſian army. The enemy are pretty near in the ſame ſituation as laſt year.

Prague, Sept. 5. The junction of the Ruſſian army with Laudohn's was made on the 25th, our regiments having been for five days drawn out in order of battle; but the enemy made no motion during that time. Immediately after their junction a council of war was held, in which it was reſolved to attack the King of Pruſſia in his camp of Ober-Arnſdorff; but next day his majeſty ſet fire to his camp, and fell back to Schweidnitz, which diſconcerted our meaſures. A part of our forces marched into the camp which the enemy abandoned. A new plan of attack was ſettled, but it was diſconcerted like the former, the King having taken a new poſition between Schweidnitz and Zobtenberg. This poſt is very ſtrong by nature, and the enemy, whoſe principal aim ſeems to be to gain time, is entrenching to the teeth.

From the head-quarters of the army of the Empire at Ronneburgh, Sept. 5. The 2d inſtant arrived here, drums beating, and with 2 pieces of cannon, 324 men of Col. Labadie's corps, which was called the Pruſſian foreign volunteers, and conſiſted chiefly of French deſerters. The next day they were conducted to Linden, from whence, taking the benefit of the amneſty publiſhed by the French court, they will repair to the regiments they formerly belonged to. The 2 pieces of cannon, being part of thoſe taken from us by the Pruſſians laſt year, are to remain here.

That corps was ſent from Leipſic to join Prince Henry's army; but on the road they mutinied, killed the Major, and wounded ſeveral other officers; none but their Colonel and a few officers joined that army.

As ſoon as this was known at Leipſic, a large detachment of huſſars was ſent in queſt of them, near Altenburgh; but the huſſars brought back very few of them, as they made a very deſperate defence.

Since the 3d inſt. the Pruſſians extremely harraſs our advanced poſts. They make movements ſometimes on our left, ſometimes on our right, which will probably bring on a general action. In the mean while all our troops are under arms, and drawn up in order of battle. The heavy baggage has juſt been ſent away to Gera.

Extract of a Letter from the Wetteravia, Sept. 6.

"About half of M. Brolio's army hath again taken poſt near Caſſel and the Upper Weſer. The head-quarters are ſtill at Caſſel. Count Broglio, the Marſhal's brother, commands the reſt of the army. The communication between Caſſel and Francfort is ſtill unſafe, which retards our convoys. A party of the allied troops have carried off, between Geinhauſen and Saalmunſter, two couriers, ſent from Verſailles with important diſpatches for M. Broglio, concerning the operations of the French army."

Stettin, Sept. 7. The 4th inſtant, in the night, ſome of our armed veſſels took two Swediſh ſhips in the Haff. Beſides killing many on board, we made 70 priſoners, including 3 officers. Twenty guns were found in the enemy's ſhips.

Prague, Sept. 7. On the 29th ult. the King of Pruſſia had his camp between Zettlitz and Wurm, and the Ruſſians theirs at Striegau. Gen. Laudohn, who is embarraſſed by the inaction of the King of Pruſſia, is endeavouring to draw him out of it, and making preparations for a general attack, which we hope will be attended with ſucceſs. The King of Pruſſia, by being reduced to the neceſſity of evading an engagement, is half conquered, for that is not his military ſyſtem, and he is out of his ſphere. Gen. Laudohn has found means to make him play the ſame game in Sileſia, as Prince Henry plays in Saxony. The war would have been at an end by this time, if theſe two Princes had not multiplied the circumſtances of it ſince it began.

Banks of the Oder, Sept. 9. The Auſtrian generals have aſſigned the Ruſſian troops, for their ſubſiſtence, the countries of Lignitz, Jauer, Goldberg, Lemberg, and Herſchberg. Theſe diſtricts ſuffer much from the light troops.

The Ruſſians wait for the coming up of their heavy artillery from Dantzick, to batter Colberg.

Hanover, Sept. 10. Gen. Luckner has ſurpriſed a body of French in the neighbourhood of Marienbourg, and taken 150 of them, whom he has conducted to Hildeſheim.

Magdebourg, Sept. 12. According to the laſt letters from Breſlau, which are dated the 6th inſtant, the King's head-quarters were ſtill at Buntzelwitz, and both the armies remained in their former poſitions. The enemy are employed in anticipating the contributions of ſeveral years.

According to letters from Colberg of the 4th, the combined fleets continued to fire a great number of bombs againſt that place, but without effect, becauſe they all fall ſhort, ſince our bombs obliged the enemy's bomb-ketches to ſtand farther out to ſea.

The brave and indefatigable Col. Belling hath advanced againſt the Swedes, and not only occupied the paſs of Klempenow, but when the Swediſh general attempted on the 4th to diſlodge him, repulſed him with loſs, and obliged him to retire to the Peene.

Bruſſels, Sept. 14. Whereſoever we turn our eyes, no proſpect of an approaching peace is yet to be ſeen. In Spain, they are raiſing abundance of men for the land ſervice, and working diligently on naval preparations. The errand of the Grand Referendary of the crown of Poland to Dantzick, attracts the attention of the public. In Holſtein every thing has a ſerious aſpect; it is ſaid, they are removing to a ſafer place the treaſure and archieves of Kiel, and thoſe of the bailiwicks of Fromſbuttel, Tritow, and Remeck. In another quarter a black cloud ſeems to be gathering, pregnant with a dreadful ſtorm.

Hague, Sept. 17. The laſt advices received from the allied army of the 11th inſt. contain nothing intereſting; they only ſay, that there were frequent ſkirmiſhes between the light troops of both armies; that Prince Ferdinand's Head-quarters were ſtill at Buhne, in the biſhoprick of Paderborn; that Gen. Sporcken, with the troops under his command, ſtill encamped in the neighbourhood of Hoxter; and that the Hereditary Prince, having quitted his poſition at Dulmen, was marching towards Ham. Marſhal Broglio has reinforced the Garriſon of Caſſel, which place muſt be ſecured at all events, as the loſs of it would overturn the plan of the whole campaign. As to the armies in Sileſia, they continue much in the ſame poſition, and are watching each other narrowly, without coming to any action that may decide the fate of that province.

Paris, Sept. 13. They write from Madrid, that they are raiſing forces in that kingdom, with the greateſt diligence; that their preparations by ſea are carrying on with equal aſſiduity; that Spain begins to rouſe, and will not remain long inactive, if the negotiations for a peace ſhould prove fruitleſs.

LONDON.

September 24. Yeſterday noon arrived a courier from France to Monſ. Buſſy at his houſe in Aſbemarle-ſtreet.

We are well informed, that Monſ. Buſſy will ſet out to-row morning for Calais; and that Mr. Stanley is to be there as near the ſame time as poſſible.

They write from Portſmouth, that the expedition fleet is quite ready to ſail, they only wait for a fair wind.

They write from Belleiſle, that Gen. Hudſon, the Governor, had ordered all the inhabitants, within a limited time, to take the oaths to his Majeſty, or quit the Iſland.

Yeſterday a man was brought to town under a ſtrong guard, charged with inliſting men into the French King's ſervice.

Letters from Magdebourg, of the 8th inſt. ſay, that the Ruſſians and Auſtrians had ſent their heavy baggage to Landſhut.

The Swediſh army has certainly fallen back to Demmin, and are obliged to draw all their ſubſiſtence from their own country.

His Majeſty's ſhip Deptford, Capt. Diggs, will be ready at Portſmouth by the laſt day of this month to take the trade that may then be ready under her convoy to Jamaica. The Governor embarks on board this ſhip.

We are told, that in conſequence of ſome negotiations the Danes are to join us.

Whatever may be thought to the contrary, there is, we are aſſured, no ſigns of a renewal of the treaty between the French court and ours, without the former's accepting the laſt terms offered.

Some private letters from different parts of Holland intimate their apprehenſions, that a new ſtorm is ready to burſt in the North, and that another is gathering in the South; notwithſtanding which, ſome are ſtill poſitive the congreſs of Auſbourg will be opened in December.

On Tueſday laſt his Majeſty, after dinner, in Weſtminſter-hall, was pleaſed to confer the honour of Knighthood on Charles Townley, Clarencieux King of arms.

His Majeſty, according to ancient cuſtom, was alſo pleaſed to confer the honour of Knighthood on John Bridge, Eſq; ſtandard bearer, and Owen Jones, Eſq; ſenior of the band of gentlemen penſioners.

Prince George of Holſtein Gottorp, being appointed, by the Imperial Prince of Ruſſia, Stadtholder of that dutchy, and having iſſued an order, requiring the fortreſs of Kiel, and all other places of ſtrength in his Imperial Highneſs's dominions, to be immediately put in the beſt poſture of defence poſſible; this had occaſioned a great variety of reports and conjectures, of which it will be time enough to ſpeak, when it ſhall appear that they have any foundation.

In the courſe of the coronation office, the litany was chanted by the Biſhops of Cheſter and Chicheſter; and the reſponſes ſung to the organ by the gentlemen of the Chapel Royal and Choir of Weſtminſter.

In the communion ſervice the Biſhop of Rocheſter read the epiſtle, and the Biſhop of Litchfield the goſpel.

The Biſhop of Saliſbury (nominated to the See of York) preached: His text was 1 Kings, chap. x. 5. "Bleſſed be the Lord thy God which delighted in thee to ſet thee on the throne of Iſrael, becauſe the Lord loved Iſrael for ever, therefore made he thee King, to do judgment and juſtice."

It is worthy obſervation, that his Grace the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, when rector of St. James's, was preſent at the birth of our moſt gracious Sovereign, and baptized him the ſame day; and as Archbiſhop attended the proclamation of him as King on the death of his Royal Grandfather, and has ſince married and crowned his Majeſty.

The great diamond on the top of his Majeſty's crown dropt off in Weſtminſter-hall on Tueſday, but was luckily found immediately after dinner.

One of the Peereſſes in the proceſſion had the misfortune to loſe a large brilliant drop of immenſe value, ſet round with eleven brilliant leaves, from her ear-ring.

Several gentlemen, dreſſed in ſoldiers cloaths, did duty laſt Tueſday, as foot ſoldiers, on the ſide of the platform, in order the better to have a near view of the proceſſion.

The King's table was covered with 120 diſhes at three ſeveral times, ſerved up by his Majeſty's band of gentlemen penſioners at near eight. At this table dined the King, Queen, Dukes of York and Cumberland, and Princeſs Auguſta.

Great numbers of ſwords, watches, &c. were loſt by perſons going to the coronation. Several diamonds were dropt in the Hall; ſome of which were found again by their owners.

Immediately upon the Duke of Bedford's entering Weſtminſter-hall on horſe-back, who rode as Lord High Conſtable of England, and Earl Talbot with him as Lord High Steward, loud acclamations were given, which frightened the horſes, and it was with the greateſt difficulty his Grace managed his, being moſt unruly, upon which an officer entered the hall, and requeſted ſilence; then Mr. Dymocke, the Champion, with his attendance, entered, and throwing down his gauntlet, or ſteel glove, a Herald proclaimed the challenge, in the following words:

"If any perſon, of what degree ſoever, high or low, ſhall "deny, or gainſay, Our Sovereign Lord King GEORGE "III. King of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, defender "of the faith, &c. grandſon and next heir to our Sovereign "Lord King GEORGE II. the laſt King deceaſed, to be "Right Heir to the Imperial Crown of this realm of Great-"Britain, or that he ought not to enjoy the ſame, here is his "Champion, who ſaith, that he lyeth, and is a falſe traytor, "being ready in perſon to combat with him; and in this quar-"rel will adventure his life againſt him, on what day ſoever "he ſhall be appointed."

ORDER of the PROCESSION at the CORONATION.

1. The King's Herb Woman, with her ſix Maids, two and two, ſtrewing ſweet Herbs, &c. 2. The Dean's Beadle and High Conſtable of Weſtminſter. 3. A Fife in a Livery Coat of Scarlet, richly laced. 4. Four Drums cloathed as the Fife. 5. The Drum-Major. 6. Eight Trumpeters, four a-breaſt, in rich Liveries of Crimſon Velvet. 7. Kettle-Drums, with Banners of Crimſon Damaſk. 8. Eight Trumpeters as before, four a-breaſt. 9. The Serjeant Trumpeter. 10. The Six Clerks in Chancery, four and two. 11. Cloſet Keeper of the Chapel-Royal. 12. The King's Chaplains, four a-breaſt. 13. The Sheriffs of the City of London. 14. Aldermen of London below the Chair. 15. The Aldermen above the Chair. 16. Maſters in Chancery in rich Gowns. 17. The King's younger Serjeant at Law. 18. King's Sollicitor and Attorney-General. 19. The King's ancient Serjeant at Law. 20. Gentlemen of the Privy Chamber. 21. The Barons of the Exchequer. 22. The Judges in their Scarlet Robes. 23. Chief Baron of the Exchequer, and Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas. 24. *Ch. Further ADVICES by Captain Niblo.

Prague, Sept. 8. To oblige the enemy to quit his advantageous poſition, and to be able to lay ſiege to Schweidnitz, Gen. Brentano was firſt reinforced with ſome Ruſſian regiments, and afterwards with Gen. Czernicheff's whole corps. Theſe two generals marched, with their united forces, by Nicholſdorf to Pitſchenberg, to cut off the enemy's communication with Breſlau, and of courſe the carriage of proviſions. This ſtep hath moreover ſecured the Ruſſian army's communication with the Oder, and inſures the ſafety of the convoys ſent to it from Poland.

We expect ſoon an alteration in Saxony. Prince Henry hath already ſent ſeveral detachments towards Brandebourg, and, according to the laſt accounts, had, within a few days, marched 6000 men towards Torgau. That Prince, moreover, ſent a body of forces to meet the army of the empire, which finding itſelf too weak to hazard a deciſive action, retreated from Ronnebourg to Weida. It had been further remarked, that his Royal Highneſs hath ſent off all the heavy baggage of his army towards Magdebourg; and that his troops are kept in conſtant readineſs for a march.

Theſe diſpoſitions, and ſome diſpatches received by Marſhal Daun from Gen. Laudohn, occaſioned a grand council of war to be held at Dreſden (where the Marſhal hath ſtill his heard-quarters) at the riſing of which, the plan which had been concerted on the preſent view of affairs, was ſent to Vienna, by a courier who paſſed through this city on Sunday, for the Empreſs Queen's approbation.

Leipſick, Sept. 8. We have moſt melancholy accounts from Sileſia, that fruitful country being entirely deſolated by the war. One half of Lignitz was lately burnt down, and the other has juſt now been pillaged. Many Families of Sileſia are retiring into Luſatia.

The account in ſome foreign Gazettes, that the Pruſſians had expected a freſh contribution of 500,000 crowns from this city (Leipſick) was entirely groundleſs. Our governor is making preparations for a vigorous defence. It is ſaid that the Pruſſians are alſo adding two new works to the fortifications of Torgau.

Hamburgh, Sept. 18. The French have evacuated the Hartz, after raiſing contributions amounting to 100,000 crowns. The Allies, on their part, have carried off 8 ſtages from Hildeſheim, and ſent them to Stade.

Frontiers of Lower Luſatia, Sept. 12. We hear that Marſhal Daun is ſending to this country a large detachment of troops under the command of Gen. Laſci; which, we hear, is to join a body of Ruſſians that advanced lately to Sprottau on the Boher, in order to attempt ſome diverſion in Brandebourg.

Magdebourg, Sept. 13. The great advantages which the enemy expected from their junction with the Ruſſian army, are not yet obtained. The King, who was ſtill encamped on the 5th between Striegau and Wurben, hath made head againſt all the force of the enemy in ſuch a manner, that they have not dared to attack him, or form any enterpriſe. We are well informed, that the baggage of the Ruſſian army paſſed the Oder on the 9th near Steinau; and all our letters from Sileſia agree, that the Ruſſian army under Marſhal Butterlin quitted its camp on the 9th, and took another next day below Lignitz on this ſide of the river of Katzbach, and on the 11th made a motion, by Bienowitz, towards the Oder.

The Ruſſian fleet hath diſcontinued its bombardment of Colberg ever ſince the 27th of Auguſt. On the 29th, 20 veſſels attempted to land ſome troops between Colberger Deep and Maikuhle, and Gen. Romanzoff was to ſupport them with all his cavalry; but our troops prevented the debarkation. The enemy remained quiet till the 4th inſt. when General Romanzoff drew nearer the place, and encamped oppoſite to our right. We have advice that the attacks he made on the Prince of Wurtemburg's entrenchments, between the 4th and the 7th, were without effect.

Duſſeldorp, Sept. 17. The Prince de Soubiſe, according to our laſt accounts, had advanced to Recklinghauſen; upon which the Hereditary Prince returned with the main body of his troops towards the Dymel, after throwing a large reinforcement into Munſter, and leaving three regiments of foot and two of horſe, under Gen. Oheimb, in the neighbourhood of Hamm.

Caſſel, Sept. 17. Marſhal Broglio's head-quarters have been at Einbeck ever ſince the 11th.

Hanover, Sept. 18. The motions of the enemy plainly indicate that they have ſome important deſign in view. On the other hand, Prince Ferdinand, we hear, hath called in his detached corps. We may therefore expect a bloody action, and perhaps a deciſive one.

Weſel, Sept. 19. The Prince de Soubiſe's army hath repaſſed the Lippe. To-morrow it marches to Coesfeldt, and next day, probably to Munſter.

Hague, Sept. 23. Letters from Stettin of the 12th inſt. adviſe, that as the Swedes were ſending a large reinforcement of troops to join the Ruſſians under Gen. Romanzoff before Colberg, the Prince of Bevern, Governor, of that place, ſent a party from that garriſon, and burnt the bridge at Wellin, over which they were to paſs; which had ſtopt their progreſs.

L O N D O N.

Sept. 8. In the Leyden Gazette we find the following intelligence, dated London, Aug. 28. "Some diſpatches which M. Buſſy received the 24th inſtant, have occaſioned ſeveral councils to be held at St. James's, and divers conferences between the King's miniſters. The court ſtill appears reſolved to inſiſt upon the abſolute poſſeſſion of all North-America, including Louiſiana, as the moſt effectual Means to prevent, for the future, all diſputes between the two nations about that part of the world. The French, it is ſaid, ſhall be allowed a place in Newfoundland for curing their fiſh, but they will not be permitted to fortify it. As to the American iſlands, the court, it is pretended, will conſent to the reſtitution of Guadaloupe, upon condition that France renounce, for ever, all claims or titles to the neutral iſlands of St. Vincent, Dominique, St. Lucia, and Tobago, in favour of the Britiſh Crown. We are alſo told that France will agree to demoliſh the fortifications of Dunkirk on the ſea-ſide; but ſhe does not explain herſelf with regard to Oſtend, Nieuport, and other places in the Netherlands; an object which our Court has very much at heart, as well for the intereſt of our commerce, and the ſafety of our coaſts, as to prevent any violation of the barrier-treaty. Moreover, it is ſaid, that Belleiſle will be exchanged againſt the iſland of Minorca."

By a letter from on board His Majeſty's ſloop Weaſel at Belleiſle, there is advice, that they were juſt arrived there from a cruiſe upon the coaſt of Spain, and had on the 9th paſt chaſed a Bayonne privateer, of 18 6 pounders, on ſhore, 6 leagues to the eaſtward of Cape Ortugal, where ſhe was intirely loſt; ſhe had 129 men, out of which the Weaſel ſaved 81, whom they brought to Belleiſle; as to the reſt, ſome got aſhore, and ſome were drowned; her loſs was ſo ſudden, that nothing could be ſaved out of her.

We hear that there was a meeting laſt Thurſday, at which ſeveral eminent merchants and bankers attended, to aſſiſt in ſettling the terms for raiſing the ſupplies for the next year; when the ſum of twelve millions was agreed upon, and a tax of ſix-pence in the pound on the tenant of every houſe above five pounds a year, was propoſed to pay the intereſt.

Sept. 26. Yeſterday morning, and not before, M. Buſſy ſet out for Dover to embark for Calais.

This morning the Earl of Halifax, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, ſet out for Holyhead, to embark for that kingdom.

On the 9th inſt. died at Montpelier in France, aged 62, Charles O'Brien (ſtyling himſelf Earl of Thomond, and Viſcount Clare, in the kingdom of Ireland) Marſhal of France, Commander in chief in Languedoc, Governor of Neus-Briſach in Alſace, and Colonel of a regiment of Iriſh foot.

Yeſterday about two o'clock Mr. Stanley arrived at St. James's.

Part of a Letter from the Hague, Sept. 22.

"According to letters received this day from France, the negotiation with the court of London was ready to break off. Affairs, ſay theſe letters, are in ſuch a ſituation, that every thing concurs to perſuade us, that there will be another campaign. M. de Buſſy having declared to the Britiſh Miniſtry, that the King, his maſter, never would make peace on the conditions which they wanted to preſcribe to him, a grand council was held at St. James's; at the riſing of which M. de Buſſy was told, that the recal of Mr. Stanley had been warmly urged by Mr. P. and the Earl of B. who were ſtrenuouſly oppoſed by the Dukes of B. and N. but that it was imagined the opinion of the former would prevail. In conſequence of theſe advices, it was ſaid that orders would be immediately ſent to M. de Buſſy to return home."

They write from Altena, that the Ruſſian army before Colberg had received the battering cannon expected from Dantzick; but that as the Prince of Wirtemberg had alſo received a reinforcement, the reduction of the place would ſtill be a work of much difficulty.

D U B L I N, September 22.

There are ſeveral accounts by private letters from London of the 12th inſtant, late at night, after all the newspapers were printed off, that many houſes were then on fire, and it was much feared that many more would ſhare the ſame unhappy fate by the bonfires, ſquibs and crackers of that night, in honour of their Majeſties marriage.

Vaſt numbers of letters are come to hand from all parts of the kingdom, of the great rejoicing made upon his Majeſty's marriage.

The SPEECH of His Excellency General THOMAS, to the Council and new Aſſembly of Antigua.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, and Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

THE Addreſs of the Council, and of the late Aſſembly to His Majeſty, the general Joy on the Acceſſion of a Britiſh-born Prince to the Throne of His Anceſtors, and the long known Zeal of the Inhabitants of this Iſland for the moſt Illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover, are ſuch Proofs of your Loyalty and Affection, as leave me nothing to recommend on this Subject, but a ſteady perſeverance in Principles ſo immediately honourable to yourſelves, and eventually beneficial to your Country; as it may be the Means of engaging the continuance of that Protection, which has maintained theſe Iſlands in a State of Quiet and Security, unknown to them in any of the former Wars with France.---Your internal Harmony has been no leſs remarkable, than this external Protection; and I doubt not, as it is eſſential to your own Welfare, but you will carefully avoid every thing which may have the leaſt Tendency to diſturb it.----I for my Part, as His Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to continue me in the Government of the Leeward Iſlands, will do every Thing in my Power to promote their Intereſt and Happineſs; and I flatter myſelf, that from a review of my paſt Adminiſtration, theſe will not be looked upon as Words only of Courſe.

To His Excellency GEORGE THOMAS, Eſq; Captain-General and Governor in Chief in and over all His Majeſty's Leeward Caribbee Iſlands in America,

The humble Addreſs of the COUNCIL of Antigua,

May it pleaſe your EXCELLENCY,

OUR Zeal and Attachment to the Illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover, muſt ever remain firm and unſhaken, as they are founded on the Love of Liberty, and the Principles of our happy Conſtitution: And by the Acceſſion of a Britiſh-born Prince to the Throne of His Anceſtors, that Loyalty which was before eſtabliſhed on ſound Policy, is now farther ſtrengthened by the Ties of natural Affection.---We Rejoice with our Parent Country on this Occaſion, and gaze with Pleaſure on the fair Proſpect of Felicity that opens to our View, glowing with the Luſtre of a Young and Patriot King.--Far though we are removed from His Royal Preſence, happily we are ſtill placed within the Reach of His Influence; for what Region ſo remote, but that His Majeſty's Arms, thither convey Terror to His Enemies, Security and Happineſs to His People.---We in theſe Iſlands in particular, are bound in Duty to acknowledge the gracious Protection afforded them, and the Enjoyment of a Tranquility unknown to us in any of the former Wars with France. Thus bleſſed with Protection from without, and happy in your Excellency's Adminiſtration within, Contentment and Harmony have abode in this little Iſle. No fear they ſhould now prune their Wings, and take their Flight, ſince you, Sir, ſtill remain with us, to ſupport and cheriſh them.--His Majeſty, attentive to promote the Intereſt and Welfare of His People, and diſtinguiſhing in the Means, has been graciouſly pleaſed to continue your Excellency in the Government of the Leeward Iſlands. We ſincerely Congratulate you, Sir, on this Occaſion, and are Thankful for the Aſſurances you give us of your Favour and Affection. We have no Reaſon to diſtruſt your ſincerity, for the Experience we have had of your paſt Adminiſtration, juſtly affords us the moſt pleaſing Expectations of the future. Your Diſpoſition to love Juſtice, your Abilities to diſtinguiſh, and your Reſolution to execute, render you a fit Repreſentative of your Royal Maſter; and as we are ſenſible of no Diſtinction between His Intereſt and that of His People, by promoting the Felicity of thoſe committed to your Care, your Excellency will conſiſtently diſcharge the Duty you owe your King and Country, and engage the Affection and Concurrence of your Council.

To His Excellency GEORGE THOMAS, Eſq; Captain-General and Governor in Chief in and over all His Majeſty's Leeward Caribbee Iſlands in America,

The humble Addreſs of the ASSEMBLY of Antigua.

May it pleaſe your EXCELLENCY,

THE Aſſembly waits upon you with their Thanks for your Excellency's Speech.

If any thing could add to the Pleaſure that the Aſſembly feels, in the Conſciouſneſs of their Loyalty to His Majeſty, and their Zeal for the Illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover, it is the Public Teſtimony of Approbation with which your Excellency has diſtinguiſhed them.

Excited by your Excellency's Advice, and animated by your Example, we ſhall ſteadily perſevere in thoſe Principles, which you have been pleaſed to tell us, are ſo honourable to ourſelves, and eventually beneficial to our Country.

Senſible of the Bleſſings that naturally flow from Harmony, we ſhall be always ſo attentive to the public Intereſt, as carefully to avoid every thing which may have the leaſt Tendency to diſturb that Concord, which is the firmeſt Foundation of political Happineſs.

To obtain an End ſo truly to be deſired, we aſſure ourſelves, from the Experience of your Excellency's paſt Adminiſtration, that we have every thing to hope, every thing to depend upon from you; and it is with Pleaſure we ſee, and with Gratitude acknowledge, that the Obligations we owe you, Sir, are much more ſubſtantial than mere Profeſſions: Theſe Obligations have been manifeſted in one uninterrupted Tenor of a juſt and mild Adminiſtration; and a conſtant Attention to the Honour, and Welfare of this your native Country.

Though it is the hardeſt Taſk imaginable, to give due Praiſe to Merit in its own Preſence, without offending that Modeſty which naturally attends it, yet when the Duty of Gratitude demands that Tribute, we muſt, we ought to pay it.

In that Sentiment, we joyfully embrace this happy Occaſion, of Congratulating your Excellency upon the Renewal of your Commiſſion, as Chief Governor of the Leeward Iſlands; doubtleſs it is the Reſult of His Majeſty's Diſcernment of true Merit, which he has promiſed from the Throne to countenance and reward.

May your Excellency poſſeſs for Life, the glorious Opportunity of doing ſo much Good to Multitudes; and continue to be the Repreſentative of His Majeſty's Perſon, for the Happineſs of His People; as you are the Miniſter of His Virtues, for the Example of future Governors.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) October 28.

Auguſta, October 14. Accounts from the Creek nation ſay, all was well there about 12 days ago. A gang of the Point Indians were returned from war againſt the Spaniards; they loſt four men, and had ſix wounded, and killed one Spaniard and a Negroe. At the ſame time a party went to St. Mark's, and received ten kegs of rum from the Spaniards.---The great buſtle that was ſome time ago in the Creek nation, about ſtopping the trade to the Chickeſaws, is dropt: The Mortar and his gang that went againſt them, are not yet returned. We hear of no more parties gone that way.---Three Frenchmen came to the Cowetas, and endeavoured to perſuade the Creeks to ſend ten men out of every town againſt the Chickeſaws, but they being juſt come in with the loſs of the four men above mentioned, would not take the Frenchmens talk.

Col. Grant with the troops marched from fort Prince-George on Friday 16th inſtant.

We hear the troops will remain ſometime at Ninety-Six.

Attakullakulla ſet out from fort Prince-George 15th inſtant, and is to be at Ninety-Six in 24 ſleeps from that day, with the other headmen.

Col. Waddel marched 21ſt paſt from Saliſbury in Rowan county North-Carolina, with his regiment, to join the Virginia forces, who, we learn, are gone into winter-quarters.

On Sunday laſt arrived from New-York, Lieut. Parker of Col. Burton's regiment, with diſpatches from Gen. Amherſt, to the Governor and Col. Grant; and next day ſet off for the army, the Governor having ordered horſes and a guide to be provided for him.

We hear the four companies of the XVIIth and XXIId regiments, now at Ninety-Six, commanded by Capts. John Campbell, Chriſtopher French, Sir Harry Seton, and Quintin Kennedy, will march down the country immediately, and embark on board the tranſport ſhips Amity's Aſſiſtance and Brotherly-Love, and proceed for Dominica, under convoy of his Majeſty's ſhip Nightingale, James Campbell, Eſq; commander. Major Alexander Moneypenny of the 22d regiment, we are told, will embark with theſe four companies.

N E W - Y O R K, November 19.

The following is a Liſt of the principal Officers, and the Regiments embarked at New-York, on the preſent Expedition.---[Beſides which there are Forces at Antigua, Guadaloupe and Dominica, which, we hear, are to join theſe in the Weſt-Indies.]

His Excellency the Hon. Major Gen. MONCKTON, Commander in Chief.

PHILADELPHIA, November 26.

Laſt Week departed this Life, of an Apoplectic Fit, at the Town of Reading, in Berks County, WILLIAM BIRD, Eſq; one of His Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace for that County; a Gentleman who, by his Induſtry, had acquired, with great Reputation, a very conſiderable Fortune, and a Man of ſtrict Honour and Integrity. In him truly dwelt the amiable Graces of an affectionate Huſband, a tender loving Parent, a kind Maſter, and a ſincere Friend; loved his Country, and was ever pleaſed to do a kind Office to any who needed it. He lived in Charity with all Men, was highly eſteemed, and his Death is greatly lamented.

Tueſday laſt Captain Mulford arrived here from Charles-Town, in South-Carolina. On Sunday, the 8th Inſtant, about 10 Leagues to the Southward of the Capes of Virginia, he ſpoke with the Snow Polly, Captain Wallis, of this Port, inward bound from Ja-

THE ſeveral Petitions from Hunterdon, Morris and Suſſex, and Edward Broadfield, againſt the Erecting of Pounds, &c. in the River Delaware, for the catching of Fiſh, and obſtructing the Navigation, were read the ſecond Time, and referred till next Seſſion, that it may be ſeen what the Legiſlature of Pennſylvania may do on the Occaſion; as it is probable nothing can be effectually done without their Aſſiſtance, and becauſe it has not appeared to this Houſe, that any of the Parties concerned in erecting the ſaid Pounds have had Notice of the Application againſt them; and if it appears at the next Seſſion that public Notice has been given in the News-papers of this Application, and nothing then appears againſt it,

Ordered, That the Members of Hunterdon have Leave to bring in a Bill, purſuant to the Prayer of the ſaid Petitions.

NEW-JERSEY. To all whom it may concern. Pleaſe to take Notice, that you appear, at the next Meeting of the Aſſembly of this Province, to ſhew Cauſe (if any there be) why a Bill ſhall not paſs, to prevent the Deſtruction of Fiſh by Pounds in the River Delaware, agreeable to the Act paſſed in Pennſylvania, and purſuant to the above Minute. Captain Calef is arrived at Boſton in 7 weeks from London, but his advices are not ſo late as thoſe we have by Captain Niblo from Cork.

LONDON.

Sept. 22. Good authority aſſures us, that offers are already made by conſiderable men, to raiſe any ſupplies to the Government, for any number of years, to continue the war with vigour.

It is ſaid a meſſage is ſent over to Germany, to inform them that the war would be puſhed on with the greateſt vigour by England, and that a new plan of operations was under conſideration.

A letter from Paris, runs thus. 'Among other projects that are on the tapis, it is pretended, that if the war ſhould continue another year, Spain will aſſiſt us with 14,600,000 livres, provided France will aſſiſt her to recover Gibraltar. We are well informed, that the Marquis de Grimaldi hath delivered a memorial on this ſubject; which hath been more than once the ſubject of debate in council.'

Notwithſtanding all reports to the contrary, we hear that his Majeſty and the Privy Council have been all along unanimous as to the terms upon which Peace ought to be made with France; and that when the conferences in regard to that important tranſaction are made public, as they probably will be, they will appear to have been conducted with the greateſt candour, equity, and magnanimity; and on the part of France, with their uſual artifice, inſincerity, and chicane.

Letters from Paris received at the Hague the 15th, brought advice, that before the end of this month they would bear news of the laſt importance, and that notwithſtanding his majeſty's ſincere diſpoſition to peace, a reſolution had been taken not to accept of the laſt terms offered by England.

Other Letters from Holland inform us, that when Mr. P. delivered thoſe terms to M. de Buſſy, he told him, that if they ſhould be rejected, the utmoſt efforts would be made to tranſfer the theatre of war into France.

Duke Ferdinand of Brunſwic, and the Hereditary Prince, have carried their point, in obliging both the French Marſhals to abandon their reſpective projects, in order to preſerve their communication with their magazines; the Duke de Broglio being returned to Caſſel, and the Prince de Soubiſe to Weſel. The latter had been taken priſoner by Lieut. Dove, if his horſe had not fallen under him, juſt as he ſeized the Prince's bridle.

The following is the number of men of war taken from the French ſince the commencement of the preſent war to the firſt inſtant: 4 ſhips of 84 guns, 14 of 74, 2 of 66, 17 of 64, 1 of 58, 2 of 56, 1 of 54, 6 of 50, 4 of 44, 2 of 40, 19 of 36, 1 of 34, 13 of 32, 2 of 28, 2 of 26, 7 of 24, 3 of 22, 7 of 20, 1 of 18, 7 of 16, 4 of 14, 2 of 12, 1 of 10, and 8 of 8 guns.----Amounting in the whole to 131 ſhips.

NEW-YORK, November 23.

On Thurſday Morning the Fleet of Men of War and Tranſports weighed Anchor and put to Sea, having an extraordinary fine leading Gale, which, by 12 o'Clock at Noon, carried them clear of the Hook; and its Continuance almoſt ever ſince, give us Hopes of their having a good Offing, and in a proſperous Way of arriving ſafe at their deſtined Port.---

Notwithſtanding this Fleet is well provided with Stores, there are ſeveral Veſſels in Harbour, which, we are told, are preparing to follow, with all Kinds of Neceſſaries, the better to ſuccour the Expedition.---

Letters from South-Carolina, dated the Beginning of this Month, by a Veſſel arrived here on Friday laſt, import, That the Treaty was actually concluded upon, and ſigned, between the Engliſh and Cherokees.

The Earl of Halifax Packet, Capt. Bolderſon, is arrived at Falmouth from this Port.

New-York, November 22, 1761.

IF a PACKET does not arrive from England in two or three Days, the Harriot Packet Boat will be diſpatched; and Orders are given to the Captain to hold himſelf in Readineſs to ſail accordingly.

Colberg is in Ducal Pomerania, and ſtands on the mouth of the Perſant, near the Baltick, 30 miles N. E. from Camin, and 55 from Stettin, and is ſubject to the King of Pruſſia.

This town is remarkable for ſalt, of which great quantities are ſent abroad, to the enriching of the town and revenue of the Crown. Its Harbour is good, but ſomewhat too narrow, ſo that the Ruſſian ſhips may find it difficult to get to an anchor, eſpecially as the entrance is defended by a ſtrong caſtle. The town has alſo three great ditches, beſides baſtions and half moons, which render its compaſs very extenſive. Here is always a ſtrong garriſon, but much more ſo in time of war. So that we may conclude it will be no eaſy conqueſt to his and our enemies the Ruſſians.
